Formosa Capital Under Strict Military Rule After Riots Wrecking U. S. Embassy

U.S. Decision Is Made On New Arms Proposal

President Meets With Aides for Final Briefing

Washington, May 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower and his top advisors reached the point of final decision today on new American disarmament proposals.

These proposals would be made to Russia when five-power disarmament talks resume in London on Monday.

Climatic Session
Harold E. Stassen, chief U. S. negotiator, plans to take off for London tomorrow afternoon. He came here a week ago for a review of U. S. policy in the light of new Soviet proposals.

Barring some last minute hitch, it appeared the today's White House meeting would be the climatic session of an intensive round which began with Stassen's return.

Summoned to confer with Eisenhower were Stassen, Secretary of State Dulles, Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), Donald Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff and Robert Cutler, presidential aide on national security affairs.

Confer 3 1/2 Hours
This was substantially the same group that met for 3 1/2 hours yesterday at the State Department, then broke up without announcement.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, in announcing today's meeting, said only that it would be "a discussion on disarmament."

The President on Thursday talked over the problem at a meeting of the National Security Council, the government's top agency for determining policy in matters dealing with country's security.

The new American disarmament ideas which Stassen is expected to take back to London are believed to cover such matters as the location of one or more zones for mutual aerial inspection. A proposed "first step" disarmament treaty also would involve cutting armaments, military.

Barrytown Man Is 19th Dutchess Traffic Fatality
A 38-year-old Barrytown man became Dutchess county's 19th traffic fatality of 1957 early this morning when his car failed to negotiate a curve in the village of Red Hook.

Ralph William Wheeler was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Frederick Zipser of Red Hook.

Rhinebeck state police reported that Mr. Wheeler was proceeding west on Route 199 when his 1951 sedan failed to make a left curve at the intersection of the highway with Phillips street.

Troopers said the vehicle smashed head-on into a brick wall and continued, sideswiping a utility pole.

Assistant Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. William Thompson of Red Hook reported that Mr. Wheeler died of a fractured dislocation of the neck.

Five Killed, Property Damage Is High As Tornadoes Rip Mid-Central Areas
Kansas City, May 25 (AP)—Dozens of tornadoes hop-skipped a wide path through the middle of the continent yesterday. The weather bureau called it the worst outbreak of twisters in recent years.

At least four persons were killed, and a fifth death was attributed indirectly to the storms. Several persons were injured. Property damage ran to thousands of dollars.

Here is a rundown by states: Oklahoma—Four persons were killed when a tornado hit a rural area 6 miles south of Lawton. A fifth death occurred when a man was stricken by a heart attack while running for a storm shelter.

Cuban Forces Seek Insurgent Troops

Five of 27 Rebels Are Seized After Landing; Plot Laid to Ex-President

Havana, May 25 (AP)—Government troops searched rugged mountain terrain today for remnants of a 27-man rebel force that landed from a yacht in eastern Cuba.

With five of the insurgents reportedly captured, the government concentrated its hunt in the Sierra Cristal area where the remainder was believed holed up. The area has served as a refuge in the past for rebel forces hostile to President Fulgencio Batista's regime.

The army said the rebels came ashore yesterday from the yacht Corinthia out of Miami under orders of ex-President Carlos Prío Socarras.

Denies Connection
Socarras said in Miami he had nothing to do with the landing and had never heard of the Corinthia.

He charged the report was "another of those package deals" that Batista "puts out from time to time."

The army quoted captured rebels as saying they were not followers of Fidel Castro, rebel leader who landed from Mexico months ago and has been operating in the eastern Cuba's mountains around Sierra Maestra with a guerrilla force.

The captives were reported to have said they refused to have anything to do with Castro "because he is allied with the Communists."

Castro Is Linked
Castro was linked to an invasion of the Presidential Palace in Havana March 13 in an effort to capture or kill Batista. About 40 men were killed in Havana during the violence.

Yesterday's landing was at the Canibaco Bay near Mayari on the north coast of Oriente province. Castro's guerrillas have been operating in the province for several months.

Military authorities said the first two men captured wore orange arm bands bearing the letters OA, initials of the organization Auténtico (Authentic Organization), Prío's party.

Led by Pilot
The captives were quoted as saying that, if captured, they were from Mexico, but that this was untrue.

Informants said the landing party was headed by Calixto Sanchez, an airline pilot who had been accused of participating in the attack on the Presidential Palace.

After a dedication ceremony at the tunnel's New Jersey portal in Weehawken, an official motorcade will move through the 1 1/2-mile third tube to Manhattan.

In speeches prepared for the dedication, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey praised bistrate cooperation in expansion of the tunnel and in other Port of New York Authority projects.

Donald V. Lowe, authority chairman, said the new tube will boost the tunnel's annual traffic capacity by 50 per cent. Last year the two tubes handled 21,600,000 vehicles.

The new south tube will carry New York-bound traffic, he said, "while the north tube will carry New Jersey-bound traffic as before. The former south tube, which now becomes the center tube, will be operated in one of these three ways: Both lanes New York-bound, both lanes New Jersey-bound, or one lane in each direction."

Work on the third tube started in September 1952. The first tube opened in 1937 and the second in 1945.

Lowe said the walls of the new tube are lined with about 2 1/2 million squares of white ceramic tile, "or enough to tile every bathroom in a city of 2,500 homes."

The roadway is blacktop as is the tunnel's interior.

Valley Workers Complain
State Hospital Pay Up But Checks Get Smaller
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—State Hospital workers in the Hudson river valley area are complaining that, despite pay raises granted by the Legislature, their paychecks are smaller.

William LeRoy, president of the Hudson River State Hospital Chapter of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union, said yesterday that hundreds of workers at that hospital received cuts from a few cents to $15.

Henry Emmer, business manager at the hospital, said pay checks were smaller but he added that employees would receive additional payments for overtime in a lump sum.

When the Legislature granted pay boosts to certain hospital employees, it also reduced the weekly work time of most state employees from 44 to 42 hours.

In approving the wage increases and work-hour reduction, Gov. Averell Harriman said workers, in some instances, would earn less because of the shorter work week.

House Likely to Follow Committee View

Senate May Be Last Hope For Ike on Defense Cuts

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration apparently will have to put its hopes on the Senate to restore sharp cuts in the defense budget.

However, some of the most vocal economy-in-government advocates are in the Senate, so the administration's hope may prove to be a forlorn one.

Voting Due Monday
House members showed little inclination to grant President Eisenhower's request for a bigger military budget than the $33,541,225,000 recommended by the House Appropriations Committee.

With one full day of debate behind it, and voting scheduled to start Monday, indications were the House would follow substantially its committee's recommendations on new military funds for the 1958 fiscal year, starting July 1.

If it does, the Defense Department's appropriations for next year will be $2,586,775,000 less than the President requested. Eisenhower says at least $1,200,000,000 of that cut should be put back in the interest of national security.

Increases Doubtful
Republicans who formally would be expected to carry the fight for the President in the House predicted privately no major increases would be voted by that body. Republicans and Democrats both were divided in their opinions as to whether the committee went too far in its cuts.

Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass.), an appropriations committee member, told the House yesterday the cuts were too deep. But he said he did not plan to offer amendments to restore the reductions.

A committee colleague, Rep. Scrivner (R-Kan.), said that if 33 1/2 billion dollars "will not buy our security, neither will 36 billion."

The committee's cuts, said Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), floor manager for the bill, were made "with the greatest care and caution."

Brucker Makes Appeal
Even as the House debated the bill, Secretary of the Army Brucker asked a Senate appropriations subcommittee to put back at least $204,700,000 of the billion-plus cut by the House committee from new army funds. The committee recommended that the army get more than seven billions.

Brucker and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, army chief of staff, said the United States must maintain strong forces to discourage possible Soviet aggression. As Secretary of Defense Wilson testified the previous day, Brucker said he saw "no diminution" of the Soviet threat.

To Appear Tuesday
Meanwhile Chairman Chavez (D-N.M.) asked top Navy Department spokesmen to appear Tuesday before the Senate appropriations group.

They are expected to ask Senate restoration of between 300 and 400 million dollars of the 686 millions slashed out by the House committee. It recommended just under 10 billions of new funds to operate the navy and marines in the new fiscal year.

In his testimony yesterday, Taylor said the army must be (Continued on Page 14, Col. 5)

Vincent McArdle, an official in the division, said he doubted any reductions were as high as $15. McArdle said most hospital employees regularly worked overtime because of personnel shortages and the shorter work week would mean higher overtime payments. The overtime is paid separately from the regular checks.

Also commenting yesterday on reduced pay were Dr. Leo P. O'Donnell, director of the Harlem Valley State Hospital, and Robert Soper of the Civil Service Employees Assn. at the Wassail State School.

O'Donnell said reductions ranging from 30 cents to 48 cents applied to 200 to 300 workers at Harlem Valley. Soper said a similar situation existed at Wassail.

American Iron and Steel Institute, reminded the nation that steel prices are due for another big boost soon. Some said the July increases are likely to be larger than the hikes of $5 to $7 a ton which had been widely predicted earlier this year.

Inflationary trends were apparent, too, in the latest U. S. Department of Labor report on living costs. The department's consumer price index for April was the highest yet: 119.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Food costs paced the upward move, but people also paid more for furniture, housing, medical care, (Continued on Page 14, Col. 6)

33,000 Troops Are Guarding Streets

Chinese Communists Say Disorders Proof Alliance With America Opposed

Taipei, Formosa, May 25 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek held this Chinese Nationalist capital under strict military rule today in the wake of violent anti-American rioting which wrecked the U. S. Embassy and injured 13 Americans.

Taipei's half-million people were kept in tight check by 33,000 Nationalist troops swarming the streets, ready to put down any new eruption. Authorities sought mob leaders who turned a protest against an unpopular U. S. court-martial decision into an anti-U. S. rampage by 20,000 to 30,000 Chinese and Formosans. Some arrests already have been made.

Tension eased gradually today. The morning and most of the afternoon passed without disturbances.

On the Chinese mainland, the Communists launched a propaganda campaign calling the disorders proof that the people of Formosa oppose Chiang's alliance with the United States. The riots fitted in handily with Red China's line in recent months that the Nationalists should agree to peaceful annexation with the mainland.

Called Revenge
In extra after extra, the Communist press in British Hong Kong proclaimed in big, red type: "Chinese brothers boil over against Americans... Chinese brothers revenge long years of hate."

The Peiping People's Daily, official organ of the Red China government, said the attack on the U. S. embassy shows that the people of Taiwan (Formosa) are in a tormented position because of the pressure of the United States and Chiang Kai-shek.

Peiping radio urged Chinese in Formosa to "intensify their efforts to work for the liberation" of the island.

After years of ranting against the U. S. 7th Fleet for protecting Formosa from Communist invasion, Peiping has been dropping hints lately it would welcome negotiations with Nationalist leaders for a "coalition government." Chiang's government repeatedly denied stories that such negotiations were underway, still insisting it will launch an invasion "at the proper moment" to free Red China.

Think Pro-Reds Agitators
Some quarters here expressed belief that pro-Communist elements, operating in the guise of patriots, had agitated the crowds yesterday. This was a tactic often used on the mainland before the Communists drove the Nationalist government to Formosa in 1949.

The Chiang government has formally apologized to the United States and indicated it will pay compensation for the damage.

Ric Ballard, Kingston High School graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Haeg of Wildwood lane, Glenierie Lake Park, made a 3,000 foot parachute jump for the NBC-TV program "Today" Friday near Woodbury, Conn.

A reporter for the show conducted by Dave Garroway, he took his first lesson in the new aerial sport of sky-diving for the filming of the feature to be shown on the program during the week.

Inflationary Signals Are Seen Again at Key Points

New York, May 25 (AP)—Running a business, feeding a family or just existing—all these things cost more money than ever before.

The technical name for this state of affairs is "inflation." For some time now, with industrial production easing off and business activity slackening here and there, you've been hearing less talk about inflation. But this week, inflationary signals were flying again at several key points on the economic scene.

Nazarene Church To Hear Report Of District Head

REV. ROBERT GOSLAW

The Rev. Robert Goslaw, superintendent of the New York District of the Church of the Nazarene, will be speaking at the 7:30 p.m. service Sunday at First Church of the Nazarene, Elmendorf street at Wiltwyck avenue.

The Rev. Mr. Goslaw is making a tour of all the churches of the district in the interest of Home Missions.

Two New Projects—Two of the outstanding projects of the Home Mission work on the New York District are the establishment of the Vassar Road Church of the Nazarene, at Poughkeepsie. Starting with 29 in attendance last October, they are now averaging in the low 80's in both Sunday school and morning worship services.

The Iglesia Del Nazarene has been organized at 170 East Second street, Manhattan to work among the 500,000 Puerto Ricans of New York city. Reports on these and other projects will be given by the Rev. Mr. Goslaw, who will be accompanied by his wife, Marjorie, who is district foreign mission president. Mrs. Goslaw will be speaking on the foreign missionary aspect of the Church of the Nazarene. A talented musician and singer, Mrs. Goslaw will also play and sing in the service.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

"But Can It Be Found In The Bible?"

People often indignantly demand that Catholics prove their teaching from the Bible.

The Bible is their "rule of faith" and they argue that every man has the right and ability to discover for himself, by his interpretation of the Bible, what he must believe and do in order to be saved.

We do not question the sincerity of these people and we applaud all who strive earnestly to understand and observe the Scriptures. But—are they right in calling the Bible, privately interpreted, the sole source of Christian teaching?

"Hold the teachings that you have learned," wrote St. Paul, "whether by word or by letter of ours" (2 Thess. 2:15). He refers to Christian teachings, some oral, some written...and demands that all be received.

Christianity did not begin with the Bible. It began with the coming of Christ. The Lord instructed His Apostles to "go forth...teach all nations"—and to insure that His truths would always be maintained, Christ established His Church, "...the pillar and mainstay of the truth" (1 Timothy 3:15).

The last part of the Bible...written by St. John...was not completed until 60 years after the Crucifixion of Christ. There was no Bible in anything resembling its present form until nearly 400 years after Jesus had died on the Cross. And the widespread distribution of the Bible as we know it today was impossible until the invention of printing, some 1400 years after the Savior's death.

By what "rule of faith" did the millions of Christians live during those 1500 years?

The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian world. And St. Paul reminds us that Christianity consists of "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism" (Eph. 4:5). "God is a God of peace, not of disorder," St. Paul said further (1 Cor. 14:33).

Yet today we have nearly 300 different religious denominations, all calling themselves Christian...all professing the Bible as their rule of faith...and all differing to some extent or another in their understanding of what the Bible means. Could Christ have left a "rule of faith" that would permit such confusion? Would He have left the interpretation of His Word to the fallible and changing judgments of men—when our very souls depend on a correct understanding and observance of the things Christ has taught us?

Because it certainly does matter what a man believes, we invite you to examine the rule of faith of the first Christians—a rule that is still maintained by the Catholic Church. Because the Bible is God's Word, and because He gave it to us for a purpose, we invite you to see what this purpose is. An interesting pamphlet on the correct use of the Bible, will be sent to you free, in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-13.

The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian

Rev. R. E. Hughes Appointed Pastor To Trinity Church

The Rev. Ralph E. Hughes, newly appointed pastor of Trinity Methodist Church on Wurts street, his wife and two sons, arrived in Kingston this past week and took up residence at the parsonage.

Bishop Newell at the recent annual conference appointed the Rev. Mr. Hughes from the Hockessin Methodist Church in Hockessin, Del., to the pastorate of the local church.

Lists Sermon—The topic of the Rev. Mr. Hughes' first sermon will be "An Ideal Church for Today."

He graduated from the University of Delaware in 1951 where he received an AB degree in economics. Following that he spent a year at the university in graduate economics.

The Rev. Mr. Hughes went to Temple University School of Theology, where he earned the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology. Since that time he has been serving graduate Philosophy at Temple under Dr. Richard Krom, formerly of Union Theological Seminary in New York, this work is for his STM degree.

The transfer from the Peninsula Conference to the New York Conference was agreed to in order to enable the Rev. Mr. Hughes to further his education and enroll as a candidate in the PhD degree at Columbia University in New York where his study will be in the field of philosophy and religion.

Also Instructed—The Rev. Mr. Hughes instructed part time at the University of Delaware during his year of graduate study there.

For one year he was statistician of the State of Delaware and for the past two years he has been a certified substitute in the public school system of Wilmington, Del.

Other teaching experience includes district and sub-district leadership training school within the Peninsula Conference.

He has spent the past five years in the parish ministry in the Peninsula Conference. For two years he served the Warwick Methodist Church in Warwick, Md. The past two years he has been the pastor of the Hockessin Methodist Church.

of the 4-H Ulster County Older Members Association, including Nancy Larsen of Stone Ridge; Barbara Brenner, Highland; and David Mollenhauer, Rosendale.

There will be special music by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Maines with William Dunn at the organ. The service will be followed by an informal coffee hour in the adjoining church hall, under the auspices of the Ulster Pomona Service and Hospitality Committee.

Noted Missionary Slates Lecture Meeting Tonight

REV. LLOYD VAN STONE

The thrilling stories of modern missionary adventure among the Stone Age tribesmen in "The Valley that Time Forgot" will be told by the Rev. Lloyd Van Stone, noted missionary at the Municipal Auditorium at 7:45 tonight.

This will be the first opportunity of area residents to hear the stories first hand which have been featured in national magazines.

Spent 30 Months

The Rev. Mr. Van Stone will tell of his 30 adventure-packed months among primitive people in the hidden valley called "Baliem" in Dutch New Guinea. The valley was called the Shangri-la when an American plane crashed in this valley and a dramatic rescue of three survivors took place. The Christian and Missionary Alliance, a pioneer missionary society secured permission from the Dutch Government to fly into the Baliem Valley. With a desire to take the Gospel to these hitherto unknown people, the Rev. Mr. Van Stone chose to fly into the valley with the Rev. Einar Mickelson.

At times both were isolated in the valley with no way to get out. The mission plane could fly into the valley when the days were clear and the river high enough for a safe landing.

Although the natives had been friendly, at times when stirred by fear of evil spirits they would attack the missionaries. The Rev. Mr. Van Stone was injured by an arrow on one occasion.

The Rev. Mr. Van Stone will recount the story of their dress, customs, homes, and tribal government. He will tell the importance of medicine to these people. Cannibalism is still practiced but Christian missions with the gospel message of the love and death of Jesus Christ is expected again to make its entrance into the hearts and lives of these Dani people.

The public is cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

Overflow Crowd Forces Graham Into 2 Sermons

New York, May 25 (AP)—Billy Graham had to preach two sermons last night—one in Madison Square Garden and one in the street—to reach the throng that came to hear him.

About 21,200 people overran the huge Garden arena, leaving 2,000 unable to get in. He preached first to those outside, telling them all men are lost in sin until they find Christ.

His impromptu platform—by coincidence—a table marked "lost and found," carried to the sidewalk for him to stand on.

"You don't have to be in the Garden, you don't have to be in church to find Christ," Graham told the crowd in Manhattan's 49th street. "Your life can be transformed right here."

Listeners jammed the street from wall to wall. In the tall apartment buildings bordering it, many poked their heads out windows or sat on fire escape landings.

Below, neon signs of taverns, a hotel and restaurants flickered. Police cordoned off a block of the street for Graham's appearance, but in the background, midtown traffic thrived.

The evangelist, his Bible in one hand and a portable microphone in the other, declared, "You can find God right here."

Biggest Turnout
"It was out in the open air, on the hillsides and in the streets that Christ himself preached and that people gathered around him and accepted Him."

The turnout was the biggest yet in the 10 days of the Graham Crusade. The vast indoor arena rang with preliminary hymns, while Graham conducted the 20-minute service outside.

He told them a "moral disease" of sin infects everyone, causing the "bewilderment, confusion and difficulties in all our lives," but that strength and forgiveness is offered to those who accept Christ as "Lord and Savior."

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL
WHEN GOD SENDS RAIN

Sometimes when God sends rain we raise grateful eyes to heaven for the gift. When the earth is parched, and the vegetation is panting for its very life, a fair sky is a morning disappointment. We ask each other the neighborly question—"Do you think it will rain today?"—as a hope that is backed by a prayer. Under such circumstances we eye every little patch of cloud with longing. We wish it would come our way to cover up the sun and spread refreshing raindrops over a thirsty earth. And then when the miracle happens and the desperately needed moisture descends, we say to ourselves: "How wonderful the boon, how gracious the clouds, how good God is to send the rain!" Under such circumstances we rejoice that the sun has gone under and moisture is being distributed by a beneficent life back to the grass again.

But circumstances alter cases, as the old saying has it. Our attitude toward rain is not always that of gratitude. It so happens that, as I write these lines, we have had a little more rain than we think we need—and a little less sunshine. When moisture is superabundant we ask the neighborly weather question from a different motive—"Do you think it will rain today?" Then we ask it with a burning wish for sunshine, a hope that the threatening clouds will thin out and vanish away, perchance a kind of disgruntled attitude toward the Great Order of weather because He can't seem to see that we already have had too much. When rainfall has been heavy, we regard fair skies as heaven's smile. But when rain has been withheld, and the earth is parched, the clouds become the gray evidence of God's goodness.

There is, of course, never a day when God can manage that delicate balance between showers and sunshine that would satisfy every mortal. I imagine God would be terribly shocked if, even for one day, all of the mortals were abundantly satisfied with what He did and what He sent. It might even be such a severe blow to Him that He would hardly be able to handle His world that day. "Jupiter himself," says a Latin proverb, "cannot please all, whether sending rain or withholding it."

There comes to mind a couplet which I learned in grade-school days:
"When God sorts out the weather and sends rain,
Then rain's my choice."
There is a world of counsel in those thirteen words. Some such creative adjustment to the kind of weather God sends can be a good beginning toward making a creative adjustment to many other things, not exactly to our liking, which we all encounter in the course of a lifetime.

To Test Planes

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The army announced Friday it will fly two light, twin-engine planes across the Atlantic for delivery to Germany next month. The flights will be for purpose of testing the aircraft-ferry method of long range delivery of army aircraft. The L23D planes will leave Dover Air Force Base, Del., on June 1. Scheduled stops are expected to require about four days, are Goose Bay, Labrador; Greenland; Iceland; Scotland, with the destination Heidelberg, Germany. Normal range of an L23D is about 800 miles, but extra fuel tanks are being installed to stretch the range to 1,600 miles.

Different Views

Washington, May 25 (AP)—Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Immigration Subcommittee said Friday he sees no prospect of hearings soon on President Eisenhower's proposals for broadening the basic immigration law. Walter, co-author of the present law, said in an interview he wants to "give everybody who has been calling names a chance to say what they think is wrong with the law." But he added he doesn't see much prospect of "working in the hearings" during this session of Congress, which is expected to end by early August. However, Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) of the permanent judiciary committee, said there "definitely will be hearings," perhaps in June.

Polio Claims Woman

Hollywood, May 25 (AP)—A young Alabama woman is dead of polio just two weeks after being flown across country to join her movie starlet sister, Janet Gentle, 25, sister of actress Lili Gentle, succumbed yesterday to the disease from which she had suffered 11 years. The Alabama Air National Guard flew Janet here from Birmingham May 10. Her mother, Mrs. Jack G. Gentle, said the flight was given to give Janet "something nice to look at."

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office)

SO THEY COME OUT OF THE LOCKER ROOM ONLY TO FIND...

THANK A TIP OF THE HAT TO FRITZ PURNELL, 1522 SHERWIN, CHICAGO, ILL.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

This year the Day Line is making a big time to celebrate the first trip of the steamboat, Clermont, 150 years ago this summer, but I take it, all the excitement will go right by our Kingston Point Park, without so much as a "Hello." It will never be explained to me to my satisfaction how Kingston Point Park got away from us, with its Dayline landings and all the pleasures that went with that glorious amusement area known up and down the Hudson. This Hudson river celebration will go by our door up to Albany and back and we will get none of it, although the replica of the Clermont had been in the Kingston Point lagoon since it ran on steam so proudly in 1909. Perhaps if the folks who had promised to take care of the Clermont for the people of New York, and kept the machinery, instead of selling it, and kept the steam in repair, it would take part in this 1957 celebration. That was the original plan, that it be kept in repairs at all times, just for such an occasion. It was loaned to the Dayline on those conditions. Then perhaps the celebration would have held at our Kingston Point, and the proud little high stack Clermont would join the other crafts up the river. It is indeed sad.

It is a good thing that there is such a group as the New York Historical Society, who when given a historical item like the original bell from the Robert Fulton's historic Clermont took care of it up to this time. This 150-year-old bell will be aboard the S.S. Peter Stuyvesant, Saturday, June 1, 1957, as she begins her New York to Albany voyage commemorating the first trip of the original Clermont. This cast iron bell, lent by this Society to the Hudson River Day Line, will accompany passengers on the 150-mile memorial cruise up the Hudson. No doubt, it will be photographed and much publicity will be given but Kingston will not be mentioned as a stopping off place, although they will pass the sunken hull of the Hudson-Fulton replica of the Clermont which is now under water in our lagoon. It will be a two-day round trip and will be made in approximately 20 hours. The original trip, Aug. 17, 1807, taking some 62 hours.

Perhaps some Kingstonians will make that cruise this year. The original Clermont operated on a wood-burning 24 horse-power Boulton and Watt steam engine and started her journey from foot of West 10th street at 1 p. m., while the Peter Stuyvesant will leave West 41st street at 9:30 a. m. The Clermont carried some 40 persons on her maiden voyage while the Stuyvesant has a 2,783 passenger capacity. Robert R. Livingston, who held the monopoly on steam navigation on the Hudson, and was a major investor in "Fulton's Folly" was on the first voyage with his niece, Harriet Livingston, who later became Fulton's wife.

The original Clermont en route to Albany, stopped overnight at Tivoli, where Fulton's engagement to Miss Livingston was announced at the manor home of the Livingston family overlooking the Hudson. Commemorating this event, the Peter Stuyvesant this year of 1957 will pause briefly, so that the bell from the original Clermont can sound as part of the ceremonies arranged by the Steamship Historical Society of America. I wonder if the readers know that same bell was on the replica of our Clermont in the lagoon during the Hudson-Fulton celebration of Sept. 25, 1909, which replica we left completely go to pieces right under our own eyes. If it had been in running condition this year, what a publicity stunt it would have been for us, if it joined in the celebration.

By SOPHIE MILLER

This year the Day Line is making a big time to celebrate the first trip of the steamboat, Clermont, 150 years ago this summer, but I take it, all the excitement will go right by our Kingston Point Park, without so much as a "Hello." It will never be explained to me to my satisfaction how Kingston Point Park got away from us, with its Dayline landings and all the pleasures that went with that glorious amusement area known up and down the Hudson. This Hudson river celebration will go by our door up to Albany and back and we will get none of it, although the replica of the Clermont had been in the Kingston Point lagoon since it ran on steam so proudly in 1909. Perhaps if the folks who had promised to take care of the Clermont for the people of New York, and kept the machinery, instead of selling it, and kept the steam in repair, it would take part in this 1957 celebration. That was the original plan, that it be kept in repairs at all times, just for such an occasion. It was loaned to the Dayline on those conditions. Then perhaps the celebration would have held at our Kingston Point, and the proud little high stack Clermont would join the other crafts up the river. It is indeed sad.

It is a good thing that there is such a group as the New York Historical Society, who when given a historical item like the original bell from the Robert Fulton's historic Clermont took care of it up to this time. This 150-year-old bell will be aboard the S.S. Peter Stuyvesant, Saturday, June 1, 1957, as she begins her New York to Albany voyage commemorating the first trip of the original Clermont. This cast iron bell, lent by this Society to the Hudson River Day Line, will accompany passengers on the 150-mile memorial cruise up the Hudson. No doubt, it will be photographed and much publicity will be given but Kingston will not be mentioned as a stopping off place, although they will pass the sunken hull of the Hudson-Fulton replica of the Clermont which is now under water in our lagoon. It will be a two-day round trip and will be made in approximately 20 hours. The original trip, Aug. 17, 1807, taking some 62 hours.

Perhaps some Kingstonians will make that cruise this year. The original Clermont operated on a wood-burning 24 horse-power Boulton and Watt steam engine and started her journey from foot of West 10th street at 1 p. m., while the Peter Stuyvesant will leave West 41st street at 9:30 a. m. The Clermont carried some 40 persons on her maiden voyage while the Stuyvesant has a 2,783 passenger capacity. Robert R. Livingston, who held the monopoly on steam navigation on the Hudson, and was a major investor in "Fulton's Folly" was on the first voyage with his niece, Harriet Livingston, who later became Fulton's wife.

The original Clermont en route to Albany, stopped overnight at Tivoli, where Fulton's engagement to Miss Livingston was announced at the manor home of the Livingston family overlooking the Hudson. Commemorating this event, the Peter Stuyvesant this year of 1957 will pause briefly, so that the bell from the original Clermont can sound as part of the ceremonies arranged by the Steamship Historical Society of America. I wonder if the readers know that same bell was on the replica of our Clermont in the lagoon during the Hudson-Fulton celebration of Sept. 25, 1909, which replica we left completely go to pieces right under our own eyes. If it had been in running condition this year, what a publicity stunt it would have been for us, if it joined in the celebration.

Phoenicia

Phoenicia, May 24—Mrs. Ruby Byer and her sister, Miss Theresa Steuding of Kingston were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Byer.

Last Sunday afternoon the annual crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin took place in St. Francis de Sales Church. The May Queen was Ann Maureen Byer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Byer. Her attendants were Candy Steiger of Chester and Florence Roberts of Pine Hill. Herbert Von Shilling was crown bearer. About eight girls were in the procession. Twelve new members joined the Sodality of Ladies of La Salle.

The Card Club had its annual luncheon at the Candlelight Inn, near Yonkers, Wednesday.

Mrs. William Malloy was sponsor for her granddaughter, Patti Ann Schaffer of Highland at confirmation on Thursday.

Double Opens Gates to Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East's raise to four spades was a dual purpose bid. He thought that there might be some chance for his partner to make that contract but he also wanted to erect a further barricade against his vulnerable opponents.

The barricade didn't shut South out but it did cause him to make an unfortunate bid of five hearts.

North didn't like hearts but he saw no reason to get into the act at the six level so he passed. At this point East could not stand of prosperity. He had three trump tricks in hearts and the ace of his partner's suit. He doubled five hearts.

This bid would have worked out beautifully if he had been able to put glue on it. The double actually got past South but North decided to run to six clubs. East doubled this also.

Now South had no problem. He went to six diamonds. West doubled. No one can blame him. He had a sure diamond trick and his partner had doubled both the other suits. West did not know how silly his partner's double of five hearts had been.

South had no trouble making six diamonds. He ruffed the opening spade lead and laid down the ace and king of trumps. The ace and king of clubs were played next and followed to the second club a third club lead pulled out East's queen. South ruffed and spread

Acquitted in Slaying

Detroit, May 25 (AP)—Philip Singer was acquitted yesterday in the slaying of Joann Gillespie. A recorder's (criminal) court jury of 10 women and two men deliberated more than 12½ hours before exonerating the 38-year-old ex-marine in the rape and murder of the 18-year-old Detroit co-ed. Harry Rowley, jury foreman, said Singer was found innocent because the jury felt the prosecution had not presented enough evidence to convict him.

Calls for Corrections

Washington, May 25 (AP)—A labor leader said Friday "tragic deficiencies" should be corrected in many state workmen's compensation laws in order to better provide for physically handicapped workers. A. J. Hayes, president of the International Assn. of Machinists, added there is a shortage of personnel trained in the task of rehabilitating the handicapped. Hayes' remarks were contained in a speech prepared for the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, of which the union official is a member. He said he thought the committee had been effective in "arousing the conscience of America" to the problem of the handicapped worker. But, he added, "the committee must, it seems to me, turn its attention more and more to the job seeing that the mechanics of medical restoration, vocational training and actual placement are improved to the point where the job we say must be done will, in fact, be done."

THE HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Almost a year has passed since Congress voted the 27.5-billion-dollar highway program designed to give the country a 41,000-mile network of superhighways. It's a good time to see what's been accomplished.

By the height of the summer tourist season only some 200 miles of this nationwide web will have been laid down. But thereafter things are expected to pick up gradually—according to plan.

The goal for 1961, four years from now, is 8,000 miles. The remaining four-fifths of the network will be built over an additional 12-year period.

Sixteen years is a long time, especially when we know that the U. S. population, and with it the traffic volume, will be rising at a steep rate in that interval.

We can hope that when the great system is finished it will still be adequate for the load it must bear. But we cannot help but have misgivings, for too many super-roads have been built only to be saddled with a congestion that makes them seem instantly out of date.

Already the highway planners have been hit by rising labor and material costs, and obviously bigger advances in these items can be expected over the years. The 27.5-billion-dollar figure plainly is nothing more than a guide-post to the ultimate cost of this vital network.

Congress cannot allow this problem to impede the development of the interstate system. Indeed, it would be well if it could find some way to speed the progress of the program. Under present plans it will proceed at the rate of about 3,000 miles of highway a year after 1961.

Meantime, as the 123-mile Massachusetts turnpike opens to add one of the last major links to the U. S. toll road system, the nation's motorists can be grateful it has these superb roadways to ride upon. They do not cover the nation, but they ease the traffic flow in some of the country's most crowded areas. They're worth what you have to pay at the toll gate.

CONFUSED CONGRESS

The 85th Congress is not one which is likely to go down in history for notable achievements. Its main concern is now the budget, and this has exposed confusions, divisions and a change of roles. The Democrats are being turned into the party of economy and the Republicans into that of spending. This is threatening to produce a division in Republican ranks as wide and possibly even as bitter as the civil rights issue among the Democrats.

The press is beginning to report the wisecracks Republicans are passing about "modern Republicans," and if legislators in the President's own party vote for the budget, many of them will do so with misgivings. The budget is both a divisive and confusing issue to Republicans. It is so also to Democrats with strong New Deal attitudes. To find themselves on the side of economy is strange.

Other issues sleep. Civil rights, Taft-Hartley, revision of the McCarran-Walter Act, the serious Senate debate on foreign policy which seemed likely during the height of the Middle Eastern crisis last fall—these issues are not likely to be handled by the 85th Congress. One gets the impression that there are many jumbled ideas on Capitol Hill today and that positive, constructive thinking is in the shade.

A fellow who has been concealing his true age for years recently gave himself away. He admitted that he could recall when most comic strips were comical.

STRIKING CONTRAST

The West German government has promised economic and farm development aid to Iran. This is another testimonial to the progress made by half of a country which war left virtually in shambles little more than a decade ago. More important, it is evidence of the superiority of democratic rule over totalitarian tyranny.

THE COUNTER-OFFENSIVE

Following upon President Eisenhower's speech in defense of his budget, a counter-offensive started to encourage the people to support the huge expenditures with the generalized statement that saving on defense could prove costly in the end. It is a good argument if you have the money to spend. The British, for instance, have now convinced themselves that they lack the money to maintain a first-class establishment, so they have cut the costs to meet their abilities.

The attack on the budget and the defense of it avoids the central problem which is the devaluation of the dollar. If the American dollar were at par, taking 1939 or 1945 or 1950 as a base, the cost of the budget to the American taxpayer might be regarded as reasonable. It is the squeeze involving high prices, high taxes and the lowered purchasing power of the dollar that makes the budget so horrendous. What is more, no such inflation as we now suffer could ever take place in any country if government agencies really took stern measures to defend the dollar. No such measures have been taken in the United States and they have not been taken for political reasons. Getting Emmet Hughes to write the President's speech, does not solve the problem, which is inflation and not a better speech-writer.

Stopping an inflationary trend involves sharp, brutal actions which politicians prefer to avoid. It would mean in the United States an absolute ceiling on wages, prices, rents, interest charges and profits. It would eliminate all the escalator clauses in union-management agreements. It would eliminate all the subsidies to business and the farmer and the largest subsidies paid by the government are to industries manufacturing war materials which have to be kept alive lest they not be available when needed. It is not often realized that war industries cannot be put away in moth-balls, to be brought out when needed. There will be no time to get them ready. But they are an enormous expense to keep going. Why not tell the truth about this?

No political party is willing to risk any drastic measures when there is no evidence yet that they are absolutely necessary. In fact, there is more money in circulation still than anyone believed would be so after last Christmas. True, some major industries are suffering from buyers' resistance, but that could be due to other causes, such as unbelievably stupid designing of products which the people simply will not buy if they can help it.

At any rate, the problem that this country faces is not a big budget or a cut budget, not costly defenses or less costly defenses, but inflation. Just one word, inflation. Just one reality, inflation. This is our central consideration as we study the current budget.

In the first of President Eisenhower's speeches on the budget, he gave the impression, it seemed to me, that the various reports of the Hoover Commissions had been implemented. The next morning he sent his own plane to New York to bring Herbert Hoover to Washington, where Hoover stayed about an hour. The reports of the Hoover Commissions—two of them—are anti-inflationary and can only be implemented fully by Act of Congress. During the Truman Administration some actual progress was made; during the Eisenhower Administration, very little has been accomplished by legislative action.

The Hoover Commission believes that its program can save the government between $4,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000 a year. Such savings would cut the budget by that amount and would be anti-inflationary in character. Bringing Mr. Hoover from New York to Washington in an airplane may demonstrate some kind of solidarity, but it does not reduce the budget. For that Congressional action is essential.

It is unfortunate that few in political life like to face the unpleasant facts of national existence. They prefer avoiding the pitfalls of reality. They cannot hide the facts or hide from them. Every day an American woman goes to market, she knows that the inflation grows increasingly more unpleasant. She can feel it in the weight of her shopping bag. She can tell it from the prices which seem to her to make no sense at all. The housewife calls it high cost of living, but what it is a perilous inflation which can become a political and social cancer.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
ULTRASONICS

We all know the main branches of physiotherapy, or physical therapy as it is frequently called, namely heat in various forms from various types of lamps, massage, hydrotherapy—use of water in various forms such as the whirlpool bath and the Hubbard tank, corrective exercises. Now there is a newcomer to the field of applied physical energy—ultrasonics.

Ultrasonics consists of the passage of sound waves of inaudible frequencies (higher than 20,000 cycles per second) into the body. As a result of the alternate compression and expansion of the molecules in the path of the waves, frictional heat is produced. The most commonly used frequencies for treatment lie between 800,000 and 1,000,000 cycles per second. Since ultrasonic waves do not travel readily through air, a coupling agent such as air-free mineral oil is placed on the skin to permit direct penetration of the waves. The amount of heat produced with ultrasonics depends on the surface area of the sound head and the strength of the electric current. Both these factors are controlled to keep the dosage within safe limits.

The exact manner in which ultrasonics works is not yet fully understood, particularly with regard to effect on bone calcification. There is also a study which has shown that in certain dosages, ultrasound will have a destructive effect on tumor cells but will spare normal tissues. Where it has been found most effective is in treating osteoarthritis, bursitis, myositis (inflammation of muscles) and in some forms of neuralgia (pain along the course of a nerve).

It has also been used in treating scars. Scar tissue absorbs a large amount of ultrasonic energy and from the resultant heating effect, becomes more easily stretched. Similarly, ultrasound may reduce symptoms associated with painful amputation neuroma—a tumor which may grow on the nerves of a stump after amputation.

Until the effects of this energy are better understood, it should not be applied over the eyes, the heart, the genitalia, pregnant uterus and other such vital parts. Because of the possibility that ultrasound may have a bad effect on growing bone, this agent should not be used in young persons. For the same reason, it is not recommended in fractures in their early stage. It should always be applied in a massaging movement of the sound head over the area treated. If it is kept applied to just one spot, there may be cavitation of the underlying tissues.

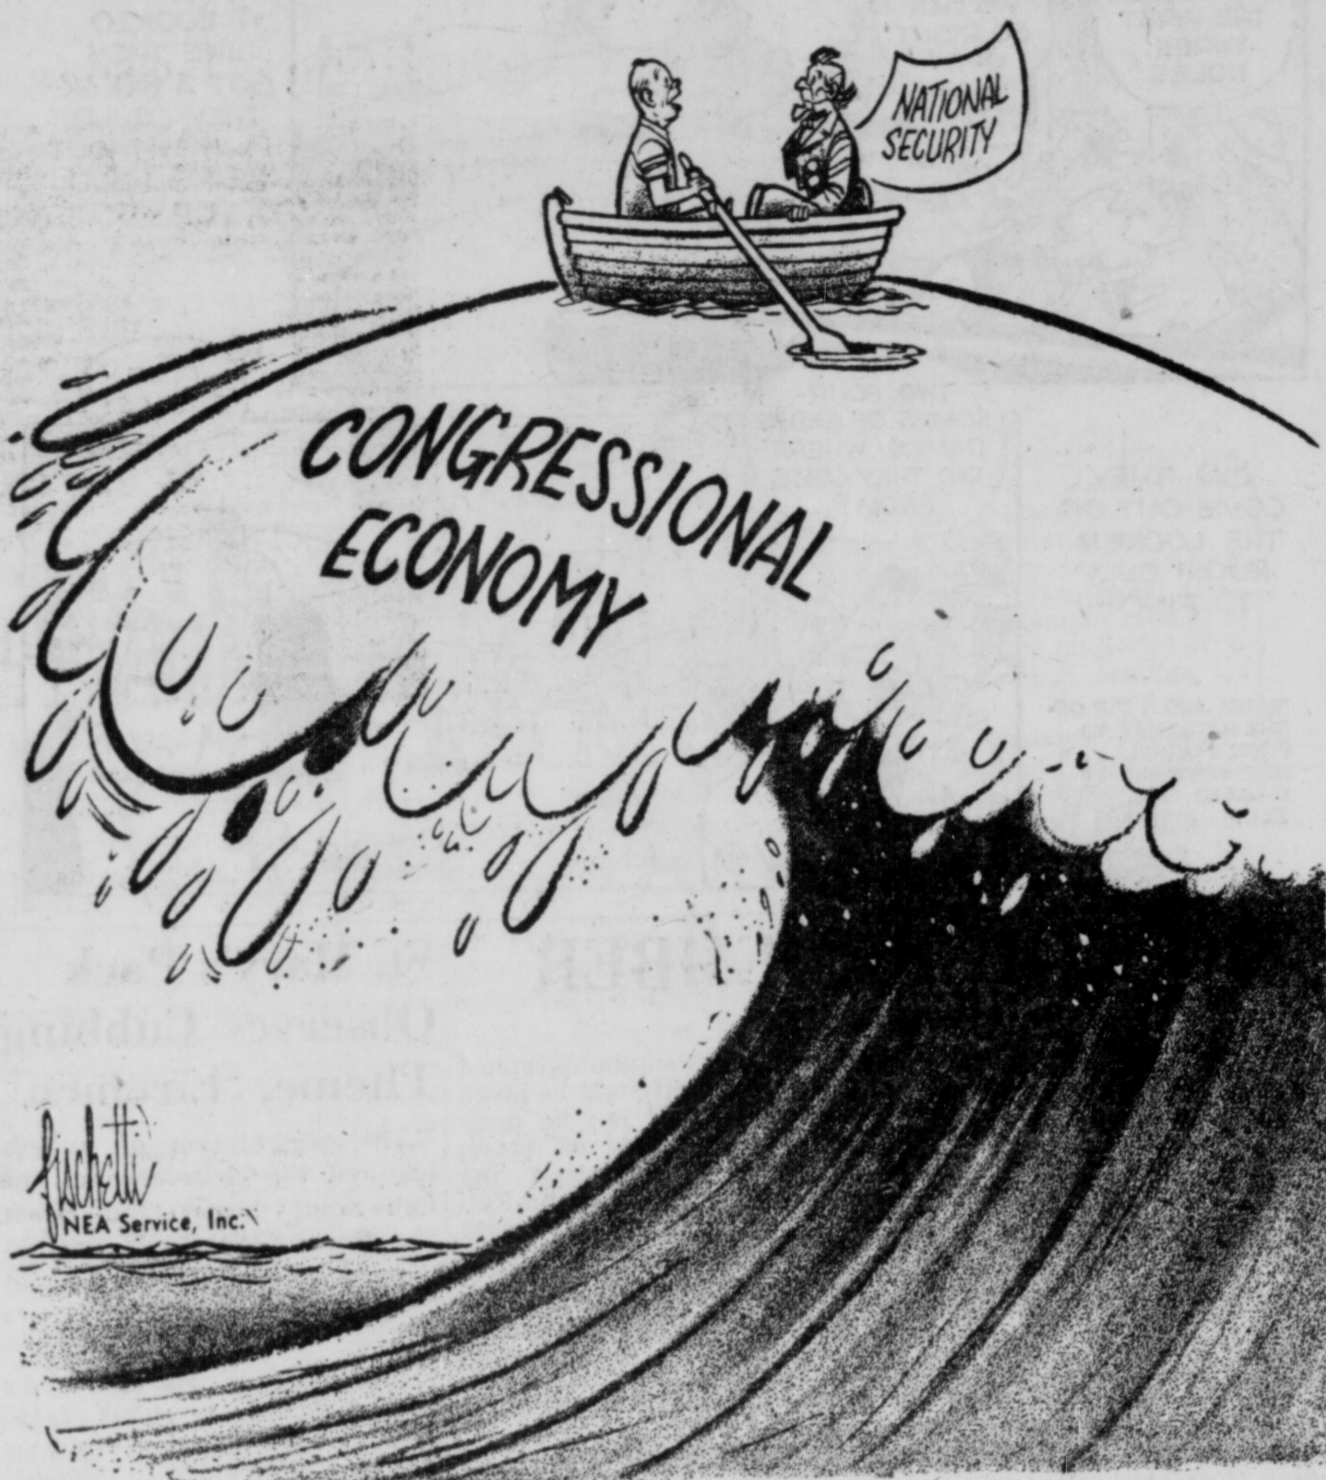

Although this is an interesting new agent in physiotherapy, there is as yet so little understood about it that most workers tend to use it in only minimal dosages as they are afraid of its possible dangers. Until more has been learned about it and when and how it can be used safely at its maximum strength, it will not likely assume any special lead over other forms of heat application used in physical medicine.

Washington—(NEA) — They may suspend receiving lines in this town until a protocol rhubarb over whether the husband or wife should go through first is settled.

Retiring Reuben Robertson, assistant defense secretary, started it all. A couple of weeks ago he asked everyone in a receiving line at a farewell party for him to pass through with him preceding wife.

Afterwards, Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw, the town's unchallenged protocol arbiter, flatly condemned the procedure. "It's simply a matter of the traditionally courteous 'ladies first' rule," she insists. Most of the town's protocol experts back her up.

Mamie Eisenhower is one who doesn't, however. At White House functions, since she became First Lady, men are asked to go through the receiving lines first.

Woodstock

By RICHARD THIBAUT JR.

Woodstock, May 24—The parade committee of Woodstock Post 1026, American Legion request that residents having flags display them on Memorial Day.

Since it is Memorial Day, the flag should be flown at half staff until noon. The proper way to do this is to run the flag up to full staff, then drop it back to half staff and leave it there until noon. Then it is run up to full staff again until the balance of the day.

Merchants and others along the line of march are requested to decorate the front of their business places with flags and bunting.

Anthony Pizzarelli of West Hurley has donated to the Post the use of his open car for the purpose of carrying the Gold Star Mothers in the parade.

Methodist Church Schedules Services

Woodstock, May 24—In celebration of the anniversary of John Wesley's Alders experience on May 26, 1738, members of the Woodstock Methodist parish will hear a sermon entitled "A Heart-Warming Experience" on Sunday.

Services of worship will be conducted in each of the churches by the Rev. Garnett Wilder.

Hours of worship are: Willow, 9:30 a. m.; Woodstock, 10:45 a. m.; Wilmberg, 12 noon and Shady, 7:30 p. m. There is a nursery for pre-school children during the Woodstock hour of worship.

The Kingston District Woman's Society of Christian Service executive board will meet in the Woodstock church hall Monday at 10:30 a. m.

There are still some vacant seats for the bus trip to New York city to hear Billy Graham June 8. The Rev. Mr. Wilder has chartered a bus which will leave Woodstock at 3 p. m. and return from Madison Square Garden immediately following the evening service. The public is welcome to take advantage of this opportunity by calling the parsonage.

Legion Election

Woodstock, May 24 — There will be an election of officers at the regular meeting of Woodstock Post 1026, American Legion, Wednesday 8 p. m. Final plans for the parade and other Memorial Day festivities will be completed.

Week's Business & Finance Reported by AP

Market Recedes Some

New York, May 25 (AP)—The stock market receded slightly this week in the area of its brand new 1957 highs.

It was the market's first weekly retreat in 13 weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 40 cents to $184.50. This left it still within the zone of the string of new highs for the year established in the last two weeks but 60 cents below the latest high, established on Monday.

Five of the most heavily traded issues of the week were oils and among the 20 most active stocks, gainers outnumbered losers by 12 to 6. Two were unchanged.

An additional symptom of the renewed interest in the market was the fact that a seat on the New York Stock Exchange was sold this week for $89,000, the highest price of 1957.

Oils Spurred

Excellent earnings reports by oil companies and optimistic forecasts both for the remainder of the year and for many years to come spurred the oil's. In addition, Getty Oil, the week's most active stock, was helped by persistent merger rumors on Wall Street.

A striking example of how a specialty stock can race ahead in an indifferent market was the case of Corning Glass which rose 20 points to 92½ this week.

The major steels did little as the industry failed to match the scheduled operating rate for the prior week.

Aircrafts were adversely affected by all the talk of budget cuts and, late in the week, of a possible disarmament agreement with Russia.

Among a miscellaneous list of gainers were Amerasia up 8½, Monterey 2½, American Cyanamid 3½ and Northern Pacific 2½.

Most Active Issues

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were: Scurry-Rainbow Oil, up ¾ at 3 5/16 on 199,800 shares; Canadian Atlantic Oil, up 3/16 at 1½; British Petroleum, off ¼ at 20½; and Atlas Corp. warrants, up ¼ at 4½.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Getty Oil, up 7½ at 36 on 196,800 shares; Standard Oil (New Jersey), up 2½ at 63½; Bethlehem Steel, off ¾ at 46½; General Motors, off ¾ at 42½; and Central Foundry, up ¾ at 12.

Weekly Bond Review

New York, May 25 (AP)—The slump of corporate bond prices continued this week for the ninth successive week. Trading was moderately active.

U. S. Government bonds dipped too, but in some of the lightest trading of the year. Dealers said the over-the-counter market was "very thin" and that a relatively few selling orders depressed the price range because buyers were so hard to find.

Rails, investment quality issues and utilities were down sharply in the corporate list. Industrials eased. Japanese dollar liens worked higher in an improved foreign sector.

The outlook is gloomy for both high grade corporate and U. S. government bonds in the opinion of one analyst. So far this year, he said, nothing has occurred to change the trend in the national economy, which is moderately inflationary. He sized up its effects this way:

Depreciation Affects Bonds

"The dollar based on the cost-of-living index is depreciating about 2 1/10 of a cent a month, or about 2 1/2 cents a year. As long as the dollar continues to depreciate at such a rate, the trend of bond prices in a free market will be down."

For the week, the treasury's 40-year 3s and the 2½s of 1963 lost 16/32 each at 91 12/32 and 93 20/32 bid, respectively. The 30-year 3 1/4s declined 20/32 at 96 20/32 and the victory 2½s of December, 1972-67, dropped 22/32 at 88 30/32 bid.

Tone of the new financing markets turned sluggish and heavy this week. There were jitters in both the corporate and municipal fields as demands for capital patently exceeded the supply investors were willing to put up at current interest levels.

IBM Figures In Squeeze

The squeeze was intensified by two massive issues in the corporate field. One was the 1,050,223-share stockholder offering of International Business Machines Corp. to raise more than 231 million dollars, second highest direct stock offering in financial history, exceeded only by the General Motors Corp. 328-million-dollar stock offering early in 1955. The other was the 70-million-dollar bond issue of New York Telephone Co.

Morgan Stanley & Co., managing underwriter of the 225-member underwriting syndicate, made the first "lay-off" of IBM shares Thursday at $305.50 a share. The size of the block was not disclosed but it was described officially as "sizeable," and it was oversubscribed.

Underwriters Take Stock

The stock sold publicly was part of the 1,050,223 shares being offered IBM stockholders at $220 a share through rights on the basis of one new share for each 10 held May 23. The block was acquired by the underwriters through purchase of rights from IBM stockholders who did not wish to subscribe themselves.

The underwriters then exercised the rights and made the stock available for public distribution at the current market price.

Such "lay-offs" are frequently resorted to by underwriters in big stockholder subscription offers. It makes for an orderly, even distribution and cuts down the risk of underwriters being confronted with large blocks of unsubscribed stock at the close of the offering period. This would be June 10 in the case of IBM.

Phone Bonds Slow

The New York Telephone Co. 4½ per cent bonds, even though rated triple A by analysts, sold very slowly on a 4 1/2 per cent basis. At week's end almost 75 per cent were unsold.

Indicative of higher interest rates for long-term money was the fact that Interstate Power Co. had to pay a borrowing cost of 5.055 per cent on its 20-billion-dollar block of 30-year bonds.

The visible supply of state and municipal offerings scheduled for public bidding over the next 30 days totals $241,497,634 compared with $282,979,841 a week ago. New issues up for public sale this coming week amount to $87,735,052 bonds and $2,577,306 short-term notes, compared with revised totals of $106,858,739 bonds and $193,701,000 notes for the past week, according to the Daily Bond Buyer.

The weekly average of long-term offerings now is $139,034,082. Feature of a rather light calendar this coming holiday-shortened week is 12½ million dollars of Texas veterans land bonds to be auctioned Tuesday.

That same day, $9,781,000 Maryland school bonds go on the block.

In the corporate field, Stone & Webster Securities Corp. heads a group offering 50 million dollars of Tennessee Gas Transmission Corp.'s first mortgage pipeline bonds on Tuesday. National Fuel Gas Co. is to auction 15 million dollars of debentures that same day.

Livestock Report

Chicago, May 25 (AP)—Hog receipts of 39,500 head at Chicago this week were the largest for any week since February but they were taken by local packers and shipper interests.

Hogs ended the week steady to 25 cents higher, and sows were about steady with a week ago. There was a scarcity of No. 1 and 2 butchers under 230 pounds and this raised prices as high as $19.40, the highest price since Jan. 23.

Stronger Prices

Moderate receipts and a higher wholesale dressed beef trade caused stronger prices for cattle early in the week. However, a two-way trend developed later, and fed steers and heifers below average gains generally lost their gains. High choice and prime cattle held their advance and finished strong to mostly 50 cents higher.

A load of prime 1,262 pound steers topped at $27.75. Cows and bulls finished the week strong to mostly 50 cents higher. Vealers were strong. Stockers and feeders also were strong.

Slaughter lambs ended the week 75 cents to $1 lower. Slaughter calves and other classes were unchanged. The dressed market was lower in both Chicago and New York. Good and choice spring lambs brought $23 to $25.

Livestock Estimate

Unofficial estimated salable livestock for Monday are 21,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 2,500 sheep.

Heavy Beating

Chicago, May 25 (AP)—Wheat futures traders who have been trying to get a bull market under way for some time had to postpone it again as prices took a heavy beating on the board of trade this week.

Wheat fell around six cents in the last two trading days and reached new seasonal lows in the biggest one week decline in about two months. Rye also was off substantially for the week, but oats, corn and soybeans held their ground fairly well.

Old style wheat closed Friday 2½ to 5½ cents lower than a week ago Friday. New style wheat was 4½ to 6 cents lower, corn unchanged to 1½ higher, oats ½ higher to 2½ lower, rye 5½ lower to 4½ higher, soybeans ¾ lower to 6½ higher, and lard 17 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Cause of Decline

Heavy sales of government wheat to exporters caused the substantial decline in wheat futures. Exporters are understood to have purchased the wheat with certificates which they had earned for previous exports. The government pays a subsidy to exporters, and may pay it in wheat instead of cash.

Exporters must redeem the certificates within a certain time. Trade authorities said the exporters apparently had no immediate market for the wheat they obtained from the government this week, so they hedged it with sales in the Chicago market, thus depressing prices here.

Trade authorities estimated the government may have sold an estimated 2½ million bushels of such wheat to exporters this week. Sales were particularly heavy on Thursday and Friday.

Another depressing influence in wheat, and also in corn and soybeans, was trade belief that the period of extremely heavy and damaging rainfall has about ended.

Woodstock Man Found Dead Today

Stanley Quick, 74, of Woodstock, despondent for some time because of ill health, took his life early this morning by firing a bullet into his head.

Coroner Francis J. McCordie said Mr. Quick went into his backyard about 6:30 a. m., laid down on the ground and placed the muzzle of a Remington .22 caliber rifle in his mouth, pulling the trigger.

He said Mr. Quick died of a massive cranial hemorrhage.

The body was discovered this morning by Matthew Hudela, Woodstock tailor, who lives next door on Route 212. The Quick home is located on the main entrance road to the village not far from the Woodstock Playhouse.

Mr. Hudela called Dr. Hans Cohn of Woodstock who pronounced Mr. Quick dead.

Mr. Hudela was working in his garden early today when he saw the body of Mr. Quick lying back of the garage on the Quick property, the coroner reported.

Mrs. Hudela had heard a shot some time earlier, it developed, but had thought nothing of it at the time.

Mr. Quick had been retired for a number of years. His wife, a teacher at Ontario Central School, did not hear the shot.

Cpl. Edward Shannon, BCL, and Trooper Pat Crowley of the Kingston state police assisted Coroner McCordie in the investigation.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Edna Quick; a sister, Mrs. John D. Krusher Sr. of Kingston; a step-daughter, Mrs. Fred France and a grandson, Frederick D. France of Schenectady; also, nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at Lasher Funeral Home, Woodstock at 2 p. m. today with the Rev. Harvey J. Todd, pastor of Woodstock Reformed Church officiating. Burial will be in Willow Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral parlors any time Sunday evening.

Young GOP Urged To Close Ranks, Back Ike Budget

Schroon Lake, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—Leaders of New York state's Young Republican movement were urged today to "close ranks" behind President Eisenhower in the controversy over the President's budget.

Mrs. John R. Tinklepaugh, the Columbia county Republican chairman, made this plea at the Young Republicans' 25th annual convention here.

200 at Parley

Mrs. Tinklepaugh, the only woman Republican county chairman in the state, said the GOP "would not be worthy of his (Eisenhower's) leadership if we permit ourselves to be diverted from uninterrupted progress toward the goals his policies will obtain."

Speaking at a luncheon session, she said:

"In these days of suddenly accelerated partisan strife and political free-booting, we should close ranks behind the President."

More than 200 delegates from Young Republican Clubs throughout the state were attending the two-day meeting.

The convention was to re-elect the organization's statewide officers later today.

Elect Rochester Man

Howard J. Ludington Jr., a Rochester investment banker, will start his second term as president.

At the convention's opening dinner last night, Assemblyman Robert Feinberg of Plattsburgh declared that the Republicans would have "a tremendous battle on our hands next year" to oust the Democratic administration in Albany.

Feinberg said that Gov. Harriman had been "playing politics a lot smarter than we would like to think" and would be difficult to beat in the 1958 gubernatorial election.

3 Are Killed In Queens Crash

New York, May 25 (AP)—Three men were killed and three others injured in a four-car crash today on the Grand Central Parkway in Little Neck, Queens.

Police identified the dead as Dr. H. Kellier Bondar, 48, of (5 Sea Blue lane) Kings Point, N. Y.; Leon Encarnacion, 30, of (171 Glen avenue) Seaclyff, N. Y.; and Ronaldo Maldonado (no age), same address as Encarnacion.

Injured, but not seriously, were: Ovario Rodriguez, 35, of (17 10th avenue) Seaclyff; George Schmitt, 27, of (720 Belam road) New Rochelle, N. Y.; and Carl Cohn, 44, of (20 Miller boulevard) Syosset, N. Y.

Police gave this account: A westbound car driven by Rodriguez sideswiped a westbound auto driven by Schmitt. Then Rodriguez's car crossed the center strip of the highway and struck an eastbound car being operated by Dr. Bondar.

The vehicle driven by Cohn crashed into Bondar's.

Rodriguez was said to be in fair condition at a hospital. Schmitt was treated for bruises and sent home. Cohn's condition was described as good at a hospital.

Congress to Check

or unfriendly nations," Knowland said.

U. S. to Pay Own Damage

The Chiang government has formally apologized. U. S. authorities have denied "full compensation and adequate apology."

The United States, however, likely will wind up paying for the damage, at least indirectly. Nationalist China operates on a deficit economy and U. S. aid makes up the deficit.

The rioting was directly touched off by the court-martial acquittal of a U. S. Army sergeant who killed a Chinese man he allegedly caught peeping into the bathroom window at the sergeant's home.

Will Quiz Two

Zablocki said his subcommittee would question, in closed session, Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for the Far East, and Stephen S. Jackson, deputy assistant secretary of defense for manpower.

The two men already had been scheduled to appear before the committee to discuss missing Korean War prisoners.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, described the Formosa rioting as "a very serious matter."

Fears Antagonism Growing

"I regret it very much. We must consider it calmly, however. It seems to involve an emotional disturbance."

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.), a former ambassador to India, said he fears the action "reflects growing antagonism to having American troops in Formosa."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he considered it "very regrettable that people for whom we've done so much would destroy our buildings, and tear down our flags because of one incident. It's deplorable that police could not restrain the extremist elements."

Belleayre Chairlift Schedule Announced

Superintendent Clifford Bellows of Belleayre Ski Center announced today the chairlift will operate over the weekend, Saturday and Sunday, from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Next week the lift will operate on Memorial Day on the same schedule as Saturday and Sunday.

Beginning June 15 it will operate daily from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. for the balance of the summer season.

A chorus of 165 voices directed by Miss Erika Krien, vocal teacher, will be one of the features of the annual spring festival at MJM School auditorium Monday and Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Other features will be the junior high school orchestra with 32, the band of 58 with a student conductor and the folk dances directed by Miss Jane La Motte, physical education teacher of the school.

Nevada Test Off 10th Time

Atomic Test Site, Nev., May 25 (AP)—The first atomic test explosion in the summer series was postponed last night for the 10th successive day because of adverse wind conditions.

The Nevada test organization said in announcing the delay that the weather outlook for Sunday is quite promising.

The decision to postpone the Saturday test knocked out not only the originally scheduled detonation of a 10-kiloton device but suspended alternate weapon.

It had been announced late in the day that while weather conditions looked unfavorable for firing the 10-kiloton test, there was a possibility that conditions would permit firing a lower yield substitute.

3 Are Killed In Queens Crash

New York, May 25 (AP)—Three men were killed and three others injured in a four-car crash today on the Grand Central Parkway in Little Neck, Queens.

Police identified the dead as Dr. H. Kellier Bondar, 48, of (5 Sea Blue lane) Kings Point, N. Y.; Leon Encarnacion, 30, of (171 Glen avenue) Seaclyff, N. Y.; and Ronaldo Maldonado (no age), same address as Encarnacion.

Injured, but not seriously, were: Ovario Rodriguez, 35, of (17 10th avenue) Seaclyff; George Schmitt, 27, of (720 Belam road) New Rochelle, N. Y.; and Carl Cohn, 44, of (20 Miller boulevard) Syosset, N. Y.

Police gave this account: A westbound car driven by Rodriguez sideswiped a westbound auto driven by Schmitt. Then Rodriguez's car crossed the center strip of the highway and struck an eastbound car being operated by Dr. Bondar.

The vehicle driven by Cohn crashed into Bondar's.

Rodriguez was said to be in fair condition at a hospital. Schmitt was treated for bruises and sent home. Cohn's condition was described as good at a hospital.

or unfriendly nations," Knowland said.

U. S. to Pay Own Damage

The Chiang government has formally apologized. U. S. authorities have denied "full compensation and adequate apology."

The United States, however, likely will wind up paying for the damage, at least indirectly. Nationalist China operates on a deficit economy and U. S. aid makes up the deficit.

The rioting was directly touched off by the court-martial acquittal of a U. S. Army sergeant who killed a Chinese man he allegedly caught peeping into the bathroom window at the sergeant's home.

Will Quiz Two

Zablocki said his subcommittee would question, in closed session, Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for the Far East, and Stephen S. Jackson, deputy assistant secretary of defense for manpower.

The two men already had been scheduled to appear before the committee to discuss missing Korean War prisoners.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, described the Formosa rioting as "a very serious matter."

Fears Antagonism Growing

"I regret it very much. We must consider it calmly, however. It seems to involve an emotional disturbance."

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.), a former ambassador to India, said he fears the action "reflects growing antagonism to having American troops in Formosa."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he considered it "very regrettable that people for whom we've done so much would destroy our buildings, and tear down our flags because of one incident. It's deplorable that police could not restrain the extremist elements."

Belleayre Chairlift Schedule Announced

Superintendent Clifford Bellows of Belleayre Ski Center announced today the chairlift will operate over the weekend, Saturday and Sunday, from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Next week the lift will operate on Memorial Day on the same schedule as Saturday and Sunday.

Beginning June 15 it will operate daily from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. for the balance of the summer season.

National Official To Address Scout Dinner Tuesday

Philadelphia, May 25 (AP)—Youths under the age of 18 committed about half of the serious crimes in America last year, a congressional subcommittee was told here yesterday.

The figure was given by Capt. Harry Fox, head of Philadelphia's Juvenile Aid Bureau. He said the figure is based on recently completed police reports for 1956.

Fox was one of several witnesses at a one-day, panel-type hearing held by a subcommittee on special education of the House of Representatives.

The GODDARD PARK A Small Home of Delightful Design

Rooms . . . . . Four Bedrooms . . . . . Two
Closets . . . . . Five
Cubage . . . . . 15,800
House . . . . . 3,600
Garage . . . . . 32' x 24'

With an exterior that looks almost like an illustration out of a fairy tale book, the "Goddard Park" would be inexpensive to build or maintain. Vertical clapboards are used on the lower section of the front projection, while horizontal clapboards cover the upper section — thus, this projection seems almost like a little house itself.

The wooden edging built out around the window in this projecting section forms a sort of window box at the same time as it adds a note of quaint and appealing charm to the exterior of the house. You can use just about any color you want for the exterior of the "Goddard Park," but a white trim is suggested.

Simple landscaping, such as the planting of small evergreen bushes or beds of dainty flowers, will harmonize with and enhance the architectural beauty of this tiny, but delightful home. Measuring but 32' x 24', the house has a cubage of 15,800 feet while the garage cubage is 3600 feet. Overall dimensions are 1152 feet; a 50 foot lot is recommended.

Living-Dining Room
The front door, decorated by three rectangular glass panels, opens directly into the spacious living room. Measuring 19'6" by 11'4", this room must serve as both a living room and dining room. It is well lighted by three windows, two in the front wall and one large window in the left wall.

Near the front windows would make an excellent location for that dining room set for it would enable you, and your guests, to enjoy the beauty of your front yard and the surrounding landscape while dining.

One of the most attractive features of this room is the large, flush mantel fireplace in the back wall of the room. Brick seems the perfect material from which to make a fireplace for a cozy, little home such as the "Goddard Park."

This room also contains ample space for convenient placement of your television set. However, more and more families are discovering that the basement rec-

Proper Placement Of Distributors Key to Good Heat

The proper placement of the heat distributors is far more important than the total amount of heat given off by the heating system.

This is a rule for the selection of heating plants that will be helpful to prospective builders of new homes as well as owners of middle aged homes with heating plants that should be modernized.

It is not how much heat, but where the heat is directed that counts in determining comfort and fuel economy, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

It is for this reason that heating engineers prefer to install heat distributors under windows where they meet and counteract the stream of cold air which pours down the panes and leaks in around the sash.

Heating engineers have another reason for preferring to place heat distributors along the outer or exposed walls of a room. These are cold surfaces. By warming these surfaces, the radiant heat loss from the body does not exceed the comfort limit.

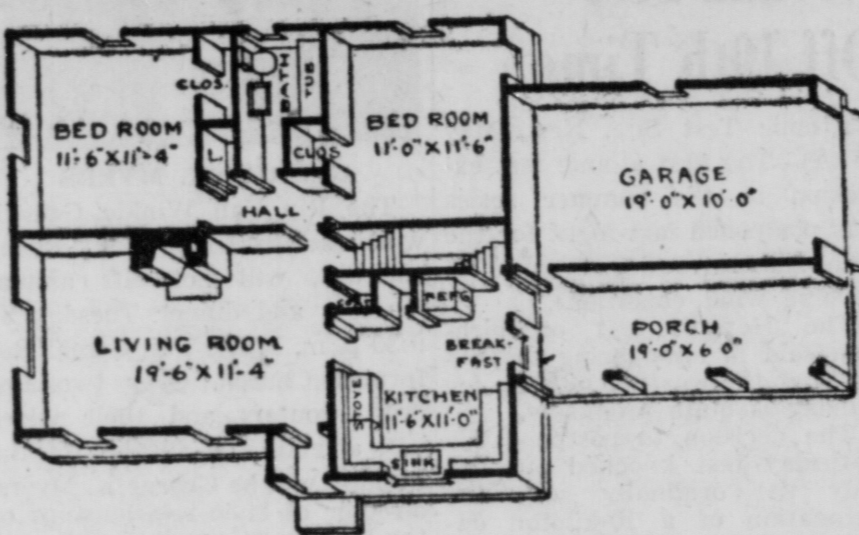

With hot water heating, the distributors such as baseboards, convectors, and radiators can be installed under windows and along the outside walls.

Tile in 200 Colors

Ten years ago ceramic tile was available in only about 50 colors. Today there's a choice of 200 different colors and shades and a wide variety of shapes, sizes and textures.

reaction room makes an ideal site for the television set—especially when youngsters from miles around seem to flock in to watch those exciting cowboy thrillers.

Although small in size, the kitchen is large in modern conveniences. Just to the right of the doorway from the living room is the suggested location for the stove. The work counter extends from the stove, along the length of the outside wall and up to the window in the right wall. Directly under the casement window, in the front wall, is the ideal location for the sink.

By the side window looking out on the porch, there is a large enough area for a comfortable breakfast nook. Because it would blend perfectly with the all modern kitchen and easily fit into the available space, a modern chrome and leather kitchen set would be especially appropriate in this breakfast nook.

Screened-in Porch

Measuring 19'x6', the screened-in porch is one of the most attractive features of the house. If you want to glass in this area the job could be taken care of easily and you would then, of course, have another room for your house. However, screened-in porches are especially appreciated during the hot summer months when you'll probably find yourself spending a considerable amount of time, both during the days and evenings, enjoying the cooler comfort of this sheltered area.

Located directly in back of the porch, the garage can be reached through a door located in the right back corner of the porch. Thus, you can go directly into the garage from the house on cold or stormy days and save yourself that much discomfort. The car entrance is located in the right wall of the garage; there is a window in the back wall.

Both bedrooms are located in

Automatic Waterers For House Plants

Farm Journal magazine suggests that if you have to go away for days at a time and don't want to worry about your house plants being unwatered, you can make automatic waterers out of old nylon stockings.

Wad one end of the stocking into a ball and place it in the bottom of a flower pot before filling the pot with soil. Then pull the other end through the hole of the pot into a small dish underneath.

As long as the pot is sitting on the dish-reservoir, water will climb the nylon fibers as fast as the plant uses it.

Priming Important

When you're advised by the label on a paint can to apply a priming coat to wood or plaster before the finishing coat, be sure to do so. The primer seals the pores of a surface and prevents the uneven absorption of final coatings. As a prime coat provides a flat surface that is not too smooth, it serves as a good base for your finish coats, too.

Know Flooring Before Waxing

Don't take your floors for granted. There are three things about them that the housewife should know.

The material of which the flooring is made.

Which of the basic types of wax should be used for that material.

The best methods of day-to-day care between waxings.

Information about the correct wax to use and proper maintenance is available for home owners from every manufacturer. Here are some of the fundamentals outlined by one company.

The major types of flooring in use today are linoleum, both in roll and tile form, with or without inlaid patterns; asphalt tile, the most popular material with "do-it-yourselfers;" vinyl plastic, because of its durability; rubber tile, in many new colors and patterns; wood, either plank or parquet tiles; and cork, a luxurious flooring now much more practical than in the past.

Other types found in homes are concrete, brick and flagstone, pigskin leather, terrazzo and ceramic tile.

Two Floor Waxes

The two types of floor wax are self-polishing and polishing. Self-polishing wax is a water emulsion. It always comes in liquid form and has hardly any odor. It is spread on floors, preferably with a long-handled applicator, and allowed to dry to a tough, shiny finish. It requires no buffing and can be used on any type of flooring except unsealed wood.

The other type of wax—polishing wax—comes either as a paste or a liquid. It contains a naphtha-like solvent which is easy to detect by smell. This type of wax requires buffing after being applied to floors. Because of the solvent, polishing wax should never be used on asphalt tile floors. It may soften the flooring, pit it and cause colors to run.

Using Fireplace?

Here Are Some Tips

Before using your fireplace light a newspaper in it to make sure that smoke is being drawn off properly. Never start a fire in the fireplace until you are sure the damper is open. Always keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. This keeps room heat from escaping through the chimney. It is not advisable to build a fire directly on fireplace bricks. Use andirons or a grate. Your fireplace should have a snug, well-fitted screen. The fire should be extinguished each night before retiring. Never use kerosene or gasoline to start a fire.

Hot Water Heating

Hot water heating systems for homes are gaining in popularity. The Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau reports a gain of 13.7 per cent in the production of boilers in the past year. Comparative figures for cast iron low pressure heating boilers were 223,129 for 1955 against 196,219 for 1954.

Oil and Kerosene Heaters Dangerous

Kerosene heaters and oil stoves always are dangerous. Because of the increasing toll of fatal fires from these devices, the National Fire Protection Assn. advises these precautions: Never leave children alone with a lighted space heater of any kind. Never fill an oil stove while it is lighted. Never move or carry a lighted heater. Always mop up any spilled oil before lighting a heater. Keep the stove clean and level and the wick trimmed.

Repairs Made Easy

Be sure to have a metal tube of one of the many all-purpose adhesive handy in kitchen or pantry for quick repair jobs. It's less fuss to make repairs at once rather than to let them pile up. The fold-up tube will keep the glue from drying out and available for instant duty.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurtler, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and William Hartman, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and their dependents.

Insurance—The United States Supreme Court ruling that veterans do not have to repay the government for premiums it paid for them on commercial life insurance policies under the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Act of 1940 applies only to application made under that Act. It does not apply to applications made under the 1942 amendment to the act. The 1942 amendment stated that the amount paid for the serviceman became a debt to the United States and that it could be collected from him. The 1940 act contained no such provision. Therefore all veterans who made application under the 1942 amendment are still required to repay the government the sum paid for them in premiums on commercial life insurance policies.

Legislation—A bill is currently being drafted by the Education and Training Subcommittee of the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Veterans Affairs to broaden the benefits of the War Orphans Educational Assistance Law passed by the last Congress. The measure being drafted would provide educational assistance for children who are totally disabled because of their war service. It proposes to pay for the program out of funds from alien properties which were seized from enemies of the U. S. during World War 2.

Pensions—Applications for benefits under the Survivors Benefits Bill passed last year must be made by July 1, 1957, if the applicant's award is to be dated back to January 1 of this year. Applications received after July 1 will become effective on the date of receipt. This new law applies only to survivors of military personnel or veterans whose death were directly attributable to military service. The law does not change any non-service connected death pension benefits. Survivors who apply for benefits under the new law will be notified whether their present compensation benefit will be increased or decreased under the new law.

Bonus—July 1, 1958 has been established by the New Hampshire State Legislature as the final day for eligible veterans to apply for the World War 2 and Korean conflict bonus payments made by the state. No final date to apply for this state bonus had been established before this law was passed.

Medical—Retired reservists must have at least eight years of active duty to qualify for benefits under the Dependents Medical Care Law of 1956. Ninety days tour of duty do not count as active duty for the purposes of this law.

Deadline—Veterans who left service before January 31, 1955, must complete their training under the Korean GI Bill by January 1, 1963 or eight years after discharge, whichever is the earlier. Korean veterans who left service after January 31, 1955, must finish training by January 1, 1965 or eight years from their separation from service, whichever comes first.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Agency, 32 Main street, Kingston.

Harriman Says DDT Brings Death to Fish

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Gov. Harriman says "significant numbers" of fish in Orange, Ulster and Sullivan counties died because of DDT sprayed from planes to eliminate the gypsy moth.

Harriman sent a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Benson last night "urgently" requesting that department planes "exercise great care to avoid direct spraying of streams and ponds in all such future operations."

The governor said he had been told by Conservation Commissioner Sharon J. Mauhs that "the spraying of DDT solution by the United States Department of Agriculture in connection with the gypsy moth eradication program has caused the death of significant numbers of fish in the ponds and streams" of the three counties. He added: "It was our understanding that such bodies of water would not be sprayed."

Forgetful Merchant

Sterling, Colo. (AP)—Police Chief Hugh O'Neal has a nomination for the absent minded merchant of the year. Police found the door open to a Sterling business establishment. They notified the owner. The owner turned up promptly to lock the door . . . but forgot his key.

Rods for Closets

For use in a children's closet place a suction cup on each end of a wooden clothes rod. Attach the rod to the closet walls at the height the child can easily reach. As he grows, you can raise the rod higher.

Checking Windows

When buying a house, check the windows for flaking putty and signs of excess moisture. Heavy moisture on windows may mean a serious construction fault, resulting in quick decay.

Yesterday's Poultry Market

New York, May 24 (AP)—(USDA)—Live poultry steady, prices unchanged. Dressed poultry. Turkeys weak; squabs and ducks steady. Turkeys fresh, ice packed young hens 10-14 lbs 32-34, young toms 16-22 lbs. 27-29.

Step Toward TV Pay

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Friday took one cautious step toward pay-as-you-see television. Without committing itself on whether a paid service will ever figure in regular TV operations, it called for trial operation of the idea in selected areas. But it left little doubt that final action on any regular toll service, for the public as a whole, is a long way off. As a basic matter, FCC said yesterday that after a two-year study it has decided it has the power to authorize paid television on the existing TV channels. This contention has been sharply challenged by the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters and several members of Congress.

Promises Square Deal

Washington, May 25 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Seaton says he will confer with Indian Commissioner Glenn L. Emmons in order to get a "square deal" for the Seneca Indians in connection with the proposed Kinzua Dam. Seaton told Chief Cornelius Seneca of the Senecas Thursday that he would "see that you get a square deal" after being told that 9,000 acres of the Seneca Reservation would be flooded by the dam. The secretary said he had arranged the meeting at the direction of President Eisenhower. "And I shall report back to him."

Nip House Trouble in Bud

While most of the repair jobs about the house are due to wear, tear and time, there are others that are due to poor construction—someone doing some foolish thing when the house was built. One way to lessen the chances of future grief is to hunt out these items and correct them before they have a chance to cause trouble.

A good example of a very common type of poor construction is the setting of wood posts on concrete or in concrete. In many homes you'll find the use of wood posts to support the girder under the first floor. If the posts are set directly on the concrete basement floor they will eventually begin to rot. There won't be much rot but there will be enough to cause the post to settle and that means the floor will either begin to sag or become weak and springy.

The way to avoid this trouble is to bring up a small concrete footing above the level of the floor, coat the top of this with asphalt and then allow the end of the post to set on the asphalt. In many homes wood floor joists and girders are extended into pockets made in the foundation walls. The lack of ventilation and the dampness from the concrete will eventually cause decay of the wood and it will begin to drop a bit and weaken the floor. Pockets should be cut out to insure ventilation around the wood and should also be lined with asphalt or moisture proof paper so that the wood member does not come into direct contact with the damp masonry.

New Floor Tiles

New vinyl floor tiles are available in rich wood tones on birch and mahogany as well as other wood tones.

Bill on Goods Favored

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The Commerce Department has endorsed a bill which would let U. S. citizens returning from abroad bring into country up to $1,000 in purchases duty-free. That would double the present maximum allowance of $500. Rep. Frank Smith (D-Miss.) introduced the bill hoping, he said, it would make "a small but painless contribution toward increasing foreign trade and making more dollars available abroad for purchasing American products."

ing more dollars available abroad for purchasing American products."

Paint Can Reminder

A handy way to remember what kind of paint you have in a left over can is to paint a stripe around the can before you clean your paint brush. Put the stripe at the level of the paint in the can and you'll know how much paint remains.

Special Series of Articles on Bridal Information to Start Monday, May 27

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

With the summer weather upon us, many of your friends are perhaps already scurrying about making wedding plans.

Traditionally, the month of June is regarded as the "Month of Brides."

With this in mind, I have compiled a series of articles containing basic information which will be of assistance to all bride-elects and these will start on Monday.

Included in the articles will be a work schedule for the betrothed; information about wedding rings, invitations, meal planning, home decorating, bridal showers, buying a wedding gown, flowers, even information for the second-time bride.

It is common knowledge that a beautiful radiant bride, a well planned wedding and reception represents a great deal of hard work. Therefore, every bride-elect should take into consideration that time to her is most valuable and she should use it to the best advantage.

Your wedding can be wonderful—and will be if you do just one thing: be systematic in your preparation.

Progress from one step to another in an orderly fashion and, I assure you, you will have peace of mind and a very happy heart all through the exciting pre-wedding days.

Watch the society page, therefore, starting Monday, for various tips which you might be able to use.

Mothers' Group Sets Annual Banquet Date

The annual banquet of St. Joseph's Mothers' Association will be held Wednesday, June 5 at 7 p. m. in the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

Reservations should be made by June 1 by contacting Mrs. George Carpenter, 202 Manor avenue.

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

GUEST ARE NOT FRIENDLY

A letter tells me: "I am going to give a shower for the daughter of a friend of mine. Not knowing the bride's friends, I asked her mother for a list of the names of those who she thought would like to come to a shower for Mary. Included in this list was the name of one of the bride's aunts. I have not spoken to this person for some time, and the bride's mother knows this. Wasn't it cheeky of her to expect me to invite her to my house knowing the circumstances, and can I take it upon myself to cross her name from the list?"

I think the bride's mother was trying to be a peacemaker, and put her name on the list in the hope that a truce might occur. At any rate, if you are serious about not inviting her to your house, you can certainly cross her name from the list.

Holding Boy's Arm While Walking

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently in our Home Economics class in high school we were discussing dating manners. Our teacher said that it was not good manners for a girl to hold the arm of a boy while walking on the street. Most of us disagree with her and think she is wrong about this. Will you please set us straight?

Answer: When wearing evening dress—especially with high-heeled slippers, or when the street is icy—it is entirely proper that he offer his arm and that she take it. Otherwise, when his assistance is unnecessary she should walk beside him unaided.

Shower for Second Bride

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to have a bridal shower for someone who is being married for the second time? I am very anxious to have this information.

Answer: Usually showers are not given for a second bride. However, exceptional situations do alter cases and if her friends have an especial reason why they are inclined to give her a shower, and also if she had none before, it would be quite all right.

Readers ask how to introduce family and friends. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Leaflet E-17, "Introductions," describes how to make introductions and how to reply to an introduction. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. ### Woodstock Library Fair Is Scheduled Woodstock, May 25—The popular "Great Expectations" event, which has drawn many fair-goers for the past few years, will again be a feature of the Woodstock Library Fair this year. The highlight of the summer season will take place on the traditional date, Thursday, July 25.

Chairmen for the 30th annual Library Fair have also named this week the chairmen for the "Great Expectations" committee. Heading the committee will be Mrs. Gordon F. Anderson, as chairman, with Mrs. Telford A. Graham and Mrs. Berkeley Williams, Jr., co-chairmen.

Tickets will go on sale starting Thursday, May 30. Individual tickets and books of tickets may be purchased from members of the committee or at tables in the local post office and other places of business to be announced.

Woodstock residents, both old and new, were again urged this week to volunteer their services as fairground workers at booths and tables on Fair Day by contacting Mrs. Margot Taylor, Library Fair Committee, Woodstock.

Residents also were reminded that the Collection Center is now open for donations on Wednesday from 2 to 5 p. m. The Center is located in the Library Fair Building directly behind the Woodstock Library, and workers there will accept any and all articles culled from closets, attics, basements and garages with the single exception of beds and mattresses.

SALE OF GOOD WILL

(Ends June 8th)

GIVE . . . . . AND RECEIVE . . . . .

For many years, I and my family have had great admiration for the good work accomplished throughout the world by various charitable organizations.

One of the finest, in our opinion, dispensing non-commercialized good will and actual concrete help to the everyday commonman everywhere — is the Salvation Army.

To help them — and to help you receive a fair compensation for pieces of furniture you are considering replacing, we, at the BUTLER FURNITURE Co. on Route 28-A in West Hurley, make the following offer:

No matter what you intend replacing . . . a bedroom suite, a living room suite, a dining room suite, an odd chair, a mattress or boxspring, a dinette set, carpeting — anything in household furniture — no matter what condition it's in . . . it can be turned in and a generous allowance, according to condition, will be made towards the purchase of new replacement pieces. (All Furniture offered during this SALE OF GOOD WILL will be sold at Specially Reduced Prices — many, many pieces and suites are priced to 30% and 40% below suggested retail prices!)

When the new pieces are delivered to your home, we will take your trade-ins and deliver them directly, FREE, to the Salvation Army headquarters in Kingston, for their disposal as they see fit.

Help Someone Else . . . your good will and ours, through the cooperation of the Salvation Army, can be utilized to its fullest extent — right now! And you can help others in need while making your purchase at Guaranteed Low Overhead Reduced Prices — lower in equal quality than any other furniture store in four counties!

Drive a few pleasant country miles to one of the largest wayside furniture stores in the Hudson Valley. Jack Brown, Mr. or Mrs. Butler, or their son Robert, would consider it a privilege to suggest pieces, in your budget quality, for your home.

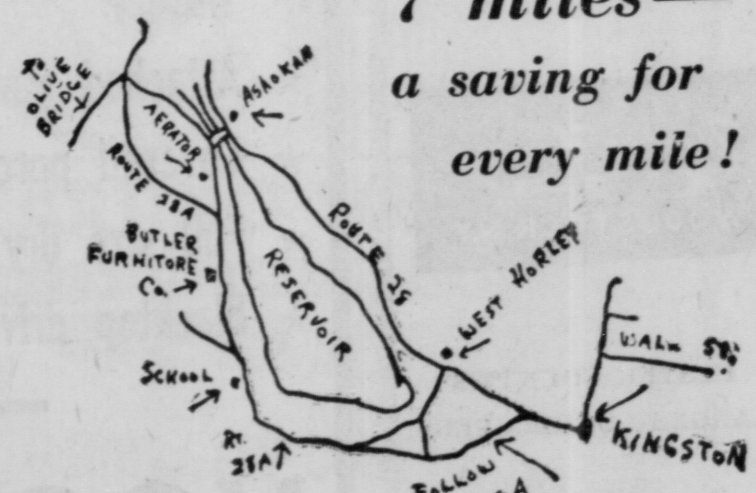

Your business is appreciated, and everything possible, to insure lasting satisfaction, will be assured — at the

A Question —

for Men to Answer for Themselves . . . ? ?

Would you wait and save (perhaps for years) to buy a mink garment for someone you cherish, and then when the day finally arrives that you really can get her a MINK FUR; want to buy one that is made for a cheap Fur Sale?

Wouldn't you rather get a fur that is made of the finest pelts with the best of workmanship?

We think it will be worth your time to visit our Showroom and see what really fine mink furs are like.

No store can match our collection — no inferior imported pelts used.

Floyd-Jackson Go Ready for July

New York, May 25 (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, the "chop 'em up" man with the double uppercut, actually is going to fight for the world heavyweight championship as Floyd Patterson makes his first defense at the Polo Grounds in New York July 29 or July 30.

Finding the challenger has been the most difficult part of this independent promotion by Emil Lence, a dress manufacturer who used to run fights at the Eastern Parkway Arena in Brooklyn.

Ever since Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, made his impassioned personal declaration of independence from the International Boxing Club, Lence has been trying to sign Jackson, the No. 1 contender.

Through the mediation of Julius Helfand, Chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, they finally got together yesterday.

Lippe Breidbart, Jackson's manager, agreed to 20 per cent of "everything" including gate receipts and a guaranteed TV revenue of $175,000. D'Amato will get 40 per cent for the champion, Helfand helped iron out a last minute hitch when Breidbart finally agreed to a rematch in case Jackson won the title. Jackson lost a 12-round split decision to Patterson in their first fight.

Golden Upset By Venezuelan In Zone Semis

Caracas, Venezuela, May 25 (AP)—Grant Golden, shrugged off his Davis Cup defeat by a little known Venezuelan today while he sat out the doubles match between Vic Seixas and Bernard (Tut) Barten and Ivo Pimentel and Ricardo Lopez.

It was Pimentel, the No. 1 player in Venezuela but little known outside his own country, who hammered Golden, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3 yesterday in the opening match of the U. S.-Venezuela American Zone semi-final.

That gave Venezuela a 1-0 lead, much to the chagrin of the Americans. It didn't last long, though, for veteran Vic Seixas, who is acting captain until Billy Talbert takes over, downed Lopez, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4 to even it.

Golden goes against Lopez in one of the final two singles matches tomorrow while Seixas takes on Pimentel. Most of the expert opinion here takes the view that the Venezuelans scored a morale victory by taking even one match.

Race Tightens In Eastern Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Only 4½ games separated the first and last teams in the Eastern League today as a result of last night's "underdog night."

Each team in the second division knocked off a first-division club.

Ed Kneuper's three hits at Syracuse helped the fifth-place Chiefs trim the league-leading Binghamton Triplets 6-3. Jose Pagan slammed a triple and a single and led a 10-hit attack by the fourth-place Springfield Giants that gave them a 4-1 decision at Reading over the second-place Indians.

At Albany, the cellar-dwelling Senators scored twice in the eighth inning to tie and once in ninth to win 3-2 over the Schenectady Blue Jays, occupants of third place.

Saugerties High Juniors-Seniors Tour IBM Plant

As part of the program of the Saugerties High School guidance department to acquaint students with employment opportunities and working conditions, two groups of juniors and seniors visited the International Business Machines Corporation plant in Kingston Wednesday. In both the morning and afternoon about 50 students each made a two hour tour of the electric type-writer and the military products divisions. The guides provided by the International Business Machines Corporation explained the manufacturing process in each division from the receipt of materials to the shipping of the finished products.

The students had an opportunity to observe each step involved in manufacturing. They could observe also a large number of occupations and see the varied skills needed.

Members of the faculty who accompanied the groups were Mrs. Marian Heermance, Miss A. Frances Larned, William Straub, John Smith and Adrian Grill.

Penn State's First

University Park, Pa. (NEA)—Pete Maute will be inducted into the Football Hall of Fame between halves of Penn State's homecoming game against Vanderbilt, Oct. 19. The first Nittany Lion to win this distinction as a player captured the 1912 team.

For Uncle Sam

New York (NEA)—Opponents of the New York football Giants will be relieved to know that Roosevelt Grier, six-foot-five, 261-pound all-league tackle, is in military service.

Hornell Rejoins NY-Penn League

Buffalo, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—Hornell has rejoined the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League to bring the Class D circuit back to eight-team strength. The league had dropped Bradford earlier this week because the club failed to meet its financial obligations.

Vince McNamara, president of the league, said yesterday that Hornell would have a working agreement with the Cincinnati Reds. Some of the players were expected to come from Cincinnati's farm system and others from the old Bradford club. McNamara said Bill McKechie Jr., Cincinnati's farm director, would be in Hornell this weekend to go over details with the league and with Early Johnson of Buffalo, who will run the club.

Johnson was put in charge of the Bradford Blue Sox when the league ran the team for its last week. Hornell had been a member of the league previously. Elmira took its place at the start of this season.

Steamin' Demon, Widower Creed, Pacing Victors

Akins Scores TKO Victory

Washington, May 25 (AP)—Virgil Akins, with another knock-out to his credit, is impatient. Jimmy Beecham, his latest victim, is boiling.

That's the situation in the wake of a sudden finish to their welterweight battle last night before a small turnout at Capitol Arena and the usual nationwide roundup of TV fight fans.

Akins, the St. Louis veteran, put the damper on the 22-year-old Miami welterweight's ambitions with a whistling right at 2:23 in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder. It was the only punishing blow of the abbreviated match, but it was ample.

Beecham dropped to the canvas, stirred as referee Marty Gallagher tolled the count, and finally boosted himself up at nine. But Gallagher wouldn't let him continue, and awarded Akins a technical knockout.

The victory was the 42nd for the 29-year-old Akins in a 58-fight career that began nine years ago. And it left him impatient for a match with any of the better known welters, preferably kingpin Carmen Basilio. Fuming at Gallagher, Beecham's manager, Angelo Dundee, said "he had as much right to stop that fight as the man in the moon."

Gallagher said later Beecham had not raised his gloves as if ready for combat and appeared in jeopardy.

Beecham outweighed Akins 151½ to 147.

Besselink Leads Kansas City Golf

Kansas City, May 25 (AP)—Al Besselink, a big blond swinger who has been only moderately successful this year, enjoyed a 2-stroke lead over crafty Lloyd Mangrum at the start of the third round of the Kansas City open golf tournament today.

The 32-year-old Besselink, tall 215-pounder from Grossinger, N. Y., took over the lead in the $22,000 tournament yesterday with a 5-under-par 67 that gave him a 36-hole total of 137. Grouped closely behind Besselink and Mangrum with 140s at the start today were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, who set the first round pace of 67; Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., and Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamacha Lake, N. Y.

Pickpocket Top Fan of Chisox

Chicago, May 25 (AP)—Edward Murphy, who possesses a pair of the fastest hands in the country, has been trying all season to see the Chicago White Sox play baseball.

He figures they've got real class this year, and will wind up world champions ranking alongside himself.

Six times he's taken himself out to Comiskey Park. Each time two burly gents have pitched him out.

But he's still trying. And next time—Monday night, when the league-leading Sox open a home stand against Kansas City—he's sure he'll get in.

He'll be wearing a pair of boxing gloves — 16-ounces, tightly laced.

They're for protection—of the other fans.

Mr. Murphy, 70, is one of the finest "cannons" in the history of Chicago. That is by his own modest admission—and by that of some excellent authority, the Chicago Police Department. A cannon is a pickpocket.

Saugerties Whips Wallkill, 19-3, to Boost Lead

Mormile Pitches Sawyers to 8th Victory in UCAL

Saugerties High took a stranglehold on first place in the UCAL by humbling Wallkill Central, 19-3, yesterday at Canine Field.

The Sawyers stand 8-1 and two full games in front. They need one win to clinch at least a tie for their second straight crown and two to clinch it.

Wallkill Blows Up
Wallkill, which had been on the move in recent weeks, blew the game in the very first inning, committing seven errors which opened the door for 11 runs. Saugerties rushed over six more in the next two frames before the visitors could dent the scoring column. The Sawyers racked up their final pair in the fifth and then the game was mercifully called.

Don Mormile spun a neat three-hitter and struck out six. Frank Labriola got one of the blows, a double.

Saugerties raked starter Ron Conroy and reliever Bob Nuzzo for 13 hits, all singles. Eddie Pascale, Jim Frece, John Di Pascale and Dick Elliott paced the attack, each with two safeties.

10 Errors
Wallkill made 10 errors altogether as it dropped its third game in nine starts. Despite the loss, it still stands in second place.

Saugerties faces a busy week starting Monday with a non-league game at Catskill. Tuesday it resumes UCAL action at New Paltz and Friday hosts Onteora.

Third Straight Squeaker

Onteora Tips Rondout Valley, 2 to 1, for Sixth Loop Win

One-run ball games are getting to be a habit with Onteora Central. The Indians were involved in their third straight squeaker within a week yesterday as they nipped Rondout Valley Central, 2-1, in a UCAL contest at Boiceville.

In their previous two outings, they edged Marlboro in eight innings, 4-3, and lost to Wallkill, 2-1, in 10 frames. Yesterday's victory was achieved in regulation time and boosted the Boiceville club's record to 6-4.

Jim Rose outpitched John Mustion in an outstanding duel. Rose surrendered five hits and Mustion four, walks and strikeouts were also about even. Rose fanned 10 to Mustion's nine while the former doled out three passes as compared to two by his rival.

Rondout opened the scoring in the first inning. With one out, Vic D'Alessio and Bill Smith socked back-to-back singles and Mustion walked to load the bases. Tom Gilman singled to center for the run. Smith also tried to score on the play, but was cut down on a bullet peg by Ted Jensen. Rose fanned Steve LaFaire to choke off the rally.

Errors Hurt Mustion

Mustion was victimized by two errors in the third as Onteora tied the count. He dug his own hole first, though, by passing Bruce Weiderspeil. The Onteora shortstop then tried to steal second and was caught dead to rights, but second sacker Art Stockin dropped the throw and Weiderspeil was safe.

After getting Dick Craig for the second out, Mustion walked Bruce Gordon, Lou Vanacore then grounded to D'Alessio at short and he let the ball squirt through his legs as Weiderspeil scored.

Squeeze Bunt
Onteora executed its third perfect squeeze bunt in as many games to get the winning run over in the fourth. Norm Boggs started the trouble with a hit. He went safe at second when D'Alessio dropped a throw on Art Gribbins' roller. Rose forced Boggs at third, but Art Davis kept the pot boiling with a hit to load the sacks. Weiderspeil then bunted perfectly to get the payoff marker in.

The setback was Rondout's fifth as against four wins. It stands fourth in the league one and one-half games behind the Indians.

(By The Associated Press)

Hitting
Roy Campanella, Dodgers—After being benched for five games with 0-for-14 batting slump, drove in four runs with two home runs in three at bats in 6-0 victory over Giants.
Pitching
Moe Drabowsky, Cubs—Struck out five, walked four and left 13 runners stranded in defeating Braves 5-1.

Hillman Won 21 Games

A Chicago Cub rookie pitcher, Dave Hillman, won 21 games for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League in 1956.

Tribe on Spree

Indians Quietly Moving Forward in Flag Race

(By The Associated Press)
Cleveland's Indians may be the most overlooked second place team baseball has had in a long time.

But while the Chicago White Sox made off with the American League lead with a 10-game unbeaten streak and the New York Yankees played night games in a plush tavern, the Indians were pussy-footing to 11 victories in 14 games, virtually unnoticed.

The Tribe finally caught the eye last night, knocking off the White Sox 4-3 to creep within two games of the lead in the opener of a four-game set at Cleveland.

Started Spree Against Yanks
Cleveland began the current ride by tripping the Yankees twice after the champs had won six in a row to gain first place. But the two-game sweep was almost overlooked with the injury to Herb Score in the first game of the set.

Since then, the Tribe has stepped right along with a quartet of .300 hitters in Vic Wertz (.337), Gene Woodling (.324), Roger Maris (.315) and Rocky Colavito (.311) helping to make up for the shaky pitching that has accomplished only one complete game in the surge.

It was Wertz and Colavito who delivered the payoff singles as the Tribe scored twice in the seventh to win last night after trailing 3-2.

The victory kept the Indians a game ahead of the Yankees, who ended a two-game slump with an 8-1 breeze past Washington. Boston rallied to beat Baltimore 4-3 and gained a fourth place tie with Detroit, 5½ games back, in the only other game played. The Tigers were rained out at Kansas City.

Redlegs Bow

In the National, Cincinnati's Redlegs held on to a two-game lead although beaten 9-6 by St. Louis. Milwaukee, whipped 5-1 at Chicago, gave up a share of second place to the Brooklyn Dodgers, who defeated the New York Giants 6-0. Philadelphia's Phillie banged four home runs to beat Pittsburgh 7-3.

Cleveland made the most of breaks for an early 2-1 lead, scoring in the first on a bases-loaded walk the chased Chicago starter Jack Harshman, and again in the fifth when Nellie Fox, the Sox' second baseman, was charged with his error of the season. The Tribe got to rookie righthander Bill Fischer with a single by Al Smith and a walk in the seventh. Wertz then singled off reliever Paul LaPalme and Colavito singled off reliever Gerry Staley.

Dick Tomanek won it, taking over when Bob Lemon pulled a thigh muscle in the seventh.

Andy Carey got the Yankees roaring against winless Chuck Stobbs, 0-9, with a two-run homer in the second—a clout that reached the left field bleachers, 430 feet from the plate. Only four hitters—Jimmy Fox, Hank Greenberg, Joe DiMaggio and Gus Zernial—ever parked one there before. Tom Steward won his third, walking seven but striking out six.

Ted Williams continued his latest hitting spree, upping his AL-leading average to .417 with three hits in four at bats for the Red Sox. His second double beat the Orioles, with Frank Malzone and Gene Stephens hitting the RBI singles. Jim Briedeweser, who's been around for seven years, hit his first major league home run in the fifth for all of the Orioles' runs.

Cards Rout Nuxhall

The Cardinals, who had lost five in a row, clobbered starter Joe Nuxhall and four Redleg relievers for 15 hits. Hal Smith had three and Don Blasingame drove in four runs with two. Larry Jackson, coming on when starter Sam Jones wrenched a knee in the third inning, won it, but need Hoyt Wilhelm's help when the Redlegs scored four in the ninth.

The Cubs won for the second time in 11 tries at home this season with Frank Ernaga, a 26-year-old outfielder purchased Monday from Portland, becoming the 27th player to hit a home run in his first major league at bat. The rookie also tripled for a total of two RBIs as Warren Spahn without a victory or complete game in his last four starts, taking his second defeat. Rookie Moe Drabowsky struck out five and left 13 Braves on base while gaining his second victory with a nine-hitter.

The Dodgers, who have won six of their last seven, sprung Roy Campanella loose after a five-game stay on the bench with an 0-for-14 slump and the big catcher banged his fifth and sixth home runs for four RBIs in three trips. Both were off Johnny Antonelli, who had won three in a row from the Brooks, and had been tagged for a Canby home run only once before—back on May 4, 1953, when the southpaw was with Milwaukee. Carl Furillo had two singles and a home run, good for two runs that gave him the NL RBI lead with 31, as Don Newcombe won his fourth with a nine-hitter in his sixth successive complete game.

Galophone Wins
Oxon Hill, Md., May 25 (AP)—Galophone won the $10,000 Symbol Gentle Trot at Roseroot Raceway last night in 2:04.2 5. Lady Dunn set the pace until the stretch when the Galophone came on to win by two lengths. Lady's First was second and Lady's Dunn third.

To Honor Ryan At Newburgh

New York-New Jersey Baseball League will honor former president and league founder, Mayor William D. Ryan, at ceremonies before the Newburgh Jewel-Beacon Bravé contest, Sunday at 2 p. m. at Recreation Field in Newburgh.

Ryan, who resigned his post a month ago, will be presented with a plaque in recognition of his services.

In another league contest, Staatsburg Knickerbockers are host to the Spring Valley Phillies, Sunday at 2 p. m. at Dinsmore Field.

The game will be highlighted by a personal appearance of Father Knickerbocker, well-known television personality. The Beacon at Newburgh and Spring Valley at Staatsburg are the only games scheduled in the league this weekend.

Little LEAGUERS

Town of Ulster Minor League will start operations for the second year Monday at 6 p. m. in rear of Chambers School.

Purpose of session is to register players who have been selected for farm system and assign them to teams. League will determine how much equipment will be ordered by initial registration. Plans call for three teams to play regular schedule. Instructions in sportsmanship, fundamentals and hitting and fielding are the primary aims of the circuit.

A new field is in the process of being completed. Thirty-six boys are already listed on file.

Short Hits 567 Series

Bill Short, anchor for the champion Management team, paced the final night of rolling in the Electrol League with a 567 series. He fired progressively better games of 177, 186 and 204.

Hugh Burke decked 523, Ben Toffel 524, and John Nua 218-518.

Team results:
Management 3, Dispatch 0; Milling 1, Tool Room 2; Assembly 2, Production Control 1; Turrets 3, Grinding 0.

Siena's Cunha Elected to Post

Albany, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—Dan Cunha, basketball coach and Assistant Athletic Director at Siena College, is the new president of the Middle Eastern College Athletic Assn.

Cunha was elected yesterday at the group's spring meeting to succeed Don Kennedy of St. Peter's College, Jersey City, N. J.

Jim McDermott, Athletic director at Iona College, was elected vice president. Dan Lynch, basketball coach at St. Francis of Brooklyn, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The conference is comprised of Siena, St. Peter's, St. Francis, Iona, St. Bonaventure and Le Moyne.

Adioscot Annexes Feature at Yonkers

Yonkers, N. Y., May 25 (AP)—Adioscot, owned by W. T. Candler of Decatur, Ga., and driven by Clint Hodgins, finished with a rush to capture last night's $5,500 Fleetwood Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

Far back in the early part of the race, the winner came fast through the stretch to reach the wire a length before Pearl Creed, handled by High Bell. Frisco Dream, with John Edmunds at the reins, finished third.

Adioscot paced the mile in 2:04 4/5 and paid $9.90.

Golf's social season gets into full swing between next Wednesday and Saturday and the 1957 season can be described as officially under way.

Practice your club shots and putting and you'll be a better golfer for it. The player who shoots between 90 and 95 can easily become a consistent 80 shooter by tightening up those two parts of his game.

The three gentlemen in charge of social activities—Eugene Berardi at The Twaalfskill, Dr. Harry Le Fever Jr. at Wiltwyck Country Club, and William R. Scully at Woodstock Country Club—have done an excellent job lining up the opening social events. They would like to see record turnouts.

Of Golf Personalities:

A kudos to Robert F. (Bob) Schoonmaker for the neat job he is doing at Wiltwyck. . . . Mrs. Edward H. Remmert, general chairman of women's golf activities at The Twaalfskill Club, issues a special invitation to all social members to attend the June 4 tournament season opening. A luncheon is planned and there will be activity for all. . . . George Svirsky, the Wall street druggist, can tell you the best golf story of the season. . . . Lou Kaye violates the form chart in every detail yet shoots consistently in the low 80s at Woodstock. . . . He swings with a baseball grip and putts one-handed. . . . Best one-handed putter we ever saw was Harry Hynes. . . . Bill Gressick, former Cobleskill golf club pro, is part of the new scene at the Catskill Country Club, where Dr. Mahlon F. Atkinson, who looks like Thomas Mitchell, the actor, is still top personality.

The Nineteenth Hole:

The United States Golf Association has issued a booklet called "The Conduct of Women's Golf" and the Metropolitan Golf Association has published a Manual of Caddy Instruction which should be a must for every club. About the ladies. By and large, women adhere to the rule book with far more sincerity and honesty than the males. The gals can count better than the men, too. . . . Alex Gerlak, off to his finest start in many years, is rated co-favorite with Alex Sinclair of Mohawk in the National PGA qualifying round at Shaker Ridge (Albany) Monday. Ben Hogan will be in the Palm Beach Round Robin tournament at Wykagyl Country Club at New Rochelle, May 29-June 2. . . . Hogan won the tournament in 1940 and 1946 but has not been seen recently in the met area. . . . When the USGA wants a golf course toughened for the National Open, they call on one man, the biggest name in the industry—Robert Trent Jones, who built Wiltwyck. When Jones completes a face-lifting job on an Open course, the pros scream murder. And they say that past protests over toughness of U. S. Open courses may be pale mewlings when the boys arrive at Toledo and see what horrors Trent Jones has waiting for them at the Inverness club, site of the 1957 Open.

About That Honor:

Now that the season is in full swing, it's time to revive that old chestnut about who gets the honor and when. Rule 12 (Sec. V) of the manual says: "The side which wins a hole shall take the honor at the next teeing ground. If a hole has been halved, the side which had the honor at the previous teeing ground shall retain it. This holds true for stroke play and match play." In match play, the players tee off in order of the draw. In the absence of a draw, the option of taking the honor shall be decided by lot. That's what the rule book stipulates, but the boys will still go on arguing that low ball wins the honor. It simply isn't so.

A Scotch Presbyterian minister, taking up the game in his mature years, asked the grey-bearded old pro: "Jock, is there any one great qualification a man should have for learning to play this game?"

"Aye," answered Jock. "Humility."
"But I am a minister."
"Aye, but beyond your teachings, your psalms and your dogma," replied the wise old Scot, "ye'll find golf is a humbling game."

Australian Captures Mile But Landy's Mark Stands

Los Angeles, May 25—John Landy's world record in the mile run still is intact today and the 17th annual Memorial Coliseum Relays came off like the 3-ring circus it was expected to be, with these results:

Merv Lincoln of Australia proved to be the best of a select cast of four sub-4-minute milers and captured the intriguing feature in a time of 4:01.0.

Half-mile Tom Courtney smashed the world 880-yard record, and in the process flattened his arch rival Arnie Sowell, with a time of 1:46.8.

The University of Texas sprint relay teams broke the existing world records and approached their pending records in the 440 and 880 yard relays.

Why We Say--

"THORN IN THE FLESH"

Jack—There's a body on the floor in there.

Susan—Is he dead?

Jack—I don't know. He won't talk.

A man was speaking of the kindness of his friends in visiting him. One old aunt, in particular, visited him twice a year, and stayed six months each time.

Teacher—Name five things that contain milk.

Student—Ice cream and 4 cows.

The basis of insurance, automobile or otherwise, is one of experience. Where there are many accidents in an area, auto insurance premiums are higher and where they are less, the rates are reduced. Thus everyone who continues to drive carefully and safely is contributing to saving lives and limbs and also cutting insurance rates.

He—Will you marry me?

She—I am a somnambulist.

He—That's all right—you go to your church and I'll go to mine.

Then there was the bow legged floor walker who said, "Walk this way, please."

Man feels he is the victim of the machine age when the rear wheels of his car go round and round in the snow and cannot pull out from the curb. Old Dobbin didn't need a lot of shoving and grunting (and sometimes some cussing) to make his getaway.

Friend—Do you play an instrument?

Man—Second Fiddle at home!

A farmer had returned home after a visit to a large city. Someone asked him what he thought of the big city.

Farmer—It's a fine place, all right, but the folks there ain't honest.

Friend—Not honest! Where'd you get that idea?

Farmer—Wa-al, I bought a paper of pins there labeled "Five Hundred Pins for Ten Cents," and coming home on the train, I counted them: they were eleven short.

The Weather

SATURDAY, MAY 25, 1957
Sun rises at 4:27 a. m.; sun sets at 7:19 p. m. EST.
Weather: Fair

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 48 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 74 degrees.

Weather Forecast

NEW YORK CITY and vicinity—Sunny and pleasantly warm with low humidity today, high near 75. Partly cloudy tonight, low in the 50s. Sunday partly cloudy and more humid with a chance of thundershowers late in the day or at night. High Sunday well up in the 70s.

EASTERN New York—Sunny and pleasant today, high 68 to 75. Fair this evening followed by increasing cloudiness and mild showers likely, high in 70s and low 80s.

IDEAL WEEKEND

late tonight, low in upper 40s and 50s. Sunday mostly cloudy with moderate temperatures and showers likely, high in 70s and low 80s.

caused shallow flooding in the business district of Joplin last night.

Across the state, in the southeastern foothill area, engineers expected 12 to 15 thousand acres of farm land around Kennett to be flooded today by the Little River.

High water also was a problem in Texas and Oklahoma as a result of torrential rains that accompanied storms in those states. Lawton, Okla., had more than 4 inches of rain in a short time. Six inches had fallen in Shawnee, Okla., by midnight, and Tulsa had flash flooding.

In Texas, new flash flooding was reported at Fort Worth and Denton. Some places had rains up to 8 inches, and the weather bureau said more downpours are expected in the next five days.

While violent winds and heavy rains hammered wide portions of the mid-continent, mostly fair weather was in prospect today from the middle and northern Atlantic coast states into the eastern Ohio valley and upper Great Lakes.

You can break chicken pieces several hours ahead and refrigerate until you're ready to deep-fat fry them for your meal.

County Goal $32,000

$4,607 Collected For Palsy Drive

A total of $4,607 has been collected to date in the 1957 finance campaign of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc., it was announced today by Dr. Henry L. Bibby, president.

Of the total, $3,607 was raised during the house-to-house "Golden Deed Crusade," which was conducted this week in the city's 13 wards.

W. Henry Haltermann, city chairman, stressed, however, that the house-to-house report still is incomplete since all wards have not reported their totals.

The town of Saugerties reported an incomplete total of $1,000.

The finance campaign is still underway in other townships in the county.

The goal for the county CP drive is $32,000 this year. Mrs. Gifford Beal is county chairman.

Residents in the county who have not as yet contributed were urged to make their donation to their ward or county chairman. Contributions also may be mailed to the CP Center, 400, Broadway, Kingston.

Rondout Valley Pre-Registration Schedule Listed

Dates for pre-registration of kindergarten and first grade pupils for the school year 1957-58 at Rondout Valley Central School were announced today by Roland A. Riegel, principal.

The schedule follows: Kerhonkson School, Federated Church, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4-5, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Accord School, Accord, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4-5, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Marbletown School, Stone Ridge, Friday, June 7, 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and Saturday, June 8, 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Cottick School, Cottick, Friday, June 7, 2 p. m. to 3 p. m.

Rosendale School, Rosendale, Friday, June 7, 2 p. m. to 3 p. m.

Children entering kindergarten or first grade should register at the school in their home community.

Requirements for admission to all kindergartens of the central district are: children must be four years and nine months of age as of September 1, 1957.

Requirements for admission to the first grades are: children must be five years and nine months of age as of September 1, 1957.

Parents are requested to bring birth certificates or baptismal certificates or any health certificates they may have in their possession so that this information may be recorded. Children will not be registered unless a birth certificate or baptismal certificate is presented.

Marbletown PTF To Meet May 29

The monthly meeting of the Marbletown Central School PTF will be held at the school Wednesday, May 29 at 8 p. m.

The annual election of officers will be held.

Highlight of the evening will be the annual art exhibit in the school gymnasium with exhibits entered by the school children and adult education classes.

The contributing groups have been under the guidance of Mr. Jackson art instructor; Mr. Lobbello, adult art instructor; and Mrs. Confer, adult sewing instructor.

The exhibit will be open both before and at the close of the business meeting.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Labor Dance, Show At Elks' Club Tonight

More than 300 members and friends of Ulster-Sullivan Counties Building Trades Council are expected to attend a dance and floor show tonight at the Kingston Elks Club on Fair street.

Secretary Stephen Gill, who is chairman of the big social event, said that many reservations have been made for the affair, which is to start at 8:30. Doors will open at 8 p. m.

The floor show at 9 p. m. will feature Jeanne Jerome, queen of xylophone; Al and Connie Fanton, musical comedy dance team, and Rollan Rochelle, pickpocket extraordinary.

Accompaniment for the show will be by Harry Maisenhelder's band which will also play for dancing.

Formosa Capital

age to American property. In the long run, however, the United States apparently will end up paying at least indirectly for the damage. The fact is that Formosa has a deficit economy and U. S. aid makes up the deficit.

The 9,000 Americans on the island include advisers to the Nationalist army.

U. S. Relations Strained

The riots — the first here against Americans — strained relations with the United States. But although congressmen and other U. S. leaders took a serious view of the occurrence, the general feeling in Washington was that it would not result in cutting off U. S. aid. A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee called a hearing for Monday to try to determine "whether our troops abroad are under proper supervision and whether steps are being taken to prevent incidents."

A U. S. military court's acquittal of a master sergeant of voluntary manslaughter charges touched off the rioting. M. Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds of Colorado, Md., had admitted shooting to death a 33-year-old Chinese he accused of peeping through the bathroom window of his home at his wife, but contended he shot the man in self-defense.

Oppose Decision

Feeling ran high against the court-martial decision. After Reynolds and his family were flown to the Philippines yesterday en route home, a crowd of 3,000 Chinese stormed the two-story, gray brick U. S. Embassy building.

They hauled down a U. S. flag and tore it to shreds. They broke windows. Surging inside, they smashed furnishings and tore up piles of classified documents.

Other rioters wrecked the U. S. Information Building some distance away.

Still others besieged 100 Americans in a U. S. army communications center, but were unable to get in.

Rankin Stoned

The Chinese stoned U. S. Ambassador Karl Rankin and Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh, who were attempting to survey the damage. Yeh was hit by a stone.

The assault on the embassy was at lunchtime, when only a handful of Americans was on duty.

Four American servicemen and two civilian airline employees were mobbed on the streets, suffering minor injuries.

At least 10 Chinese rioters were injured in fights with police. Rioters demanding the release of students arrested earlier stoned the three-story police building, and from time to time a bullet whizzed.

Embassy a Shambles

The rioters dispersed late in the day when three divisions of Nationalist troops moved into the city with armored cars.

The embassy and information service building were a complete shambles today. Ambassador Rankin established a temporary office at the headquarters of the U. S. Navy's Taiwan Defense Command.

Many Saugerties Seniors Plan Higher Education

To date 30 per cent of the members of the senior class of Saugerties High School have been accepted for admission to higher institutions of learning.

Some members of the class have applications pending so that the final total will be above 30 per cent.

The members of the class who have been accepted most recently include Lauretta Tierney at the College of New Rochelle and Manhattanville College; Helen Wyzomirski for nursing education at Harlem Valley State Hospital, Judith Beadle for a two-year secretarial course at Rider College, and Kathleen Snyder at the Grace Downs Air Career School.

Committees for the event include: Tickets—Mrs. LeRoy Jacobsen and Mrs. Thomas Kolb; kitchen, Mrs. Valmore Carpenter, Mrs. Frank Brockway, Mrs. Lewis Mickle, Mrs. Harry L. Moose and Mrs. Carl Heese; floor committee, Mrs. Joseph T. Dengler, Miss Gloria Wilsie, Mrs. William R. Wroisen and Mrs. Rodney Lasher.

A special meeting for the purpose of bringing in solicitations will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the West Camp fire station.

Inflationary

amusements, hair cuts and transportation.

Labor Department officials said the cost-of-living index would certainly be higher in May — and probably go up even more in July and August. Meanwhile the April increase will bring automatic pay boosts June 1 for 1,400,000 auto, aircraft and farm equipment workers.

On still another front, a committee of Congressional experts took a good hard look at the nation's business and reported that inflationary pressures are increasing.

The committee forecast a stepped-up rate of general business activity in the months ahead. It said "gross national product" — the total dollar value of all goods and services produced and sold — should soar this year to a new high of 435 billion dollars. In the first three months of 1957, business as measured in terms of gross national product was rocking along at a yearly pace of 427 billion dollars. Gross national product in 1956 totaled 412 billion dollars. In each instance, the gains were partly due to price increases.

How Future Looks

Here's what the committee had to say about major business trends for the rest of 1957: Spending by individual consumers — and by federal, state and local government agencies — will continue to increase. Spending by corporations on new plant and equipment may level out on a high plateau. Money and credit will continue "tight." Incomes and prices will continue to rise.

The inventory liquidation now going on in many lines should be of short duration because sales of finished products to ultimate consumers are going along at a good clip. The committee wound up with the observation: The fears voiced by many businessmen earlier this year have "noticeably lessened."

Sales Lag, Jobs Cut

Hopes for an early upturn in appliance sales grew dimmer this week. Layoffs were announced at General Electric Co.'s refrigerator plant in Louisville, Ky., and General Motors' Frigidaire Division plant in Dayton, Ohio. Spokesmen for both companies blamed lagging sales.

Auto industry leaders, too, were trimming their sails a bit. Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, told stockholders that sales of new automobiles of all makes in the United States this year should just about match last year's total of 5,850,000. Henry Ford 2nd made a similar forecast at his company's annual meeting in Dearborn.

It wasn't too long ago that auto manufacturers were talking about a 6,500,000-car year. This week, in his talk to GM shareholders Curtice said the market for passenger cars and trucks "has not measured up to expectations."

Jet Bomber Missing

Tucson, Ariz., May 25 (AP)—A big jet bomber was missing today on a flight from Oklahoma to Tucson and presumed down.

The crew's last report came from over western Oklahoma. Davis-Monthan Air Force Base here reported that the B-47 Stratojet, carrying its customary crew of three, was listed overdue shortly after sundown last night. It took off from Tulsa. The base withheld the names of the crew. The plane was flying through weather conditions described as "extremely bad" by the Civil Air Patrol.
